The Herald's Special Says:
Gen. Spinner has decided, in order to be in harmony with the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, that Pittock, opposite the Post Office, keeps the finest assortment of Valentines, Albums, Pocket Books, Gold Pens, etc.

Central Skating Park.
Only two more days of the engagement with Miss Carrie A. Moore, the Skatorial Queen. Those wishing to witness the performances of this truly wonderful skater should embrace this, their last opportunity, as Miss Moore intends visiting Europe next season, and will probably not appear again in this country. Matinee afternoon and evening of Saturday and Monday, February 10th and 12th, if the weather is no more unfavorable than to-day, Friday. See the usual bulletins posted in the city.

A Good Joke on a Soldier.
A young man from Temperanceville came to the city on business, and among other things requiring attention was an aching tooth, and so repaired to the office of Dr. Sill, and with apparent skepticism inquired if this troublesome member could be taken out, without pain or injurious effects to himself. Having received a satisfactory answer, the laughing gas was administered, and the tooth extracted. In a moment or two after, he raised up in the chair and said: "Well, Doctor, that gas has no effect on me. I am sorry"—and threw himself back in the chair, to show what a man who had seen service could do, and, with determination, said: "I will have it out anyhow. I have been a soldier; certainly I can bear that." The Doctor informed him he could do no more with the tooth. At this the young man concluded, as there was blood in his mouth, that there had been a trial made, and thrust his tongue into the cavity to see what had been done, and to his delight and astonishment the tooth was gone.

A Point on Which all Physicians Agree.
Out of ten thousand regular physicians you cannot find one who will not say that stimulants and invigorants are absolutely necessary in medical practice. And yet in bygone years humane practitioners have hesitated to administer them, because the fiendish ingenuity of wretches who make merchandise of human infirmities had so polluted and deteriorated them that the remedy was deemed as dangerous as the disease. This perplexity is happily done away with. Physicians know, because the first analytical chemists of the age have demonstrated the fact, that Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters are absolutely and entirely free from all pernicious elements. Hence they have been introduced into the United States Army, and are accepted, wherever the testimony of the wise, the intelligent and the philanthropic is rated at its just value, as the best protective against and cure for all diseases arising from impurity in the air or other unhealthy climate influences, that has ever been tested by experience. In cases of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, we state without qualification or reservation, that the Bitters are as nearly infallible as anything prepared by human skill can be.

Hostetter's Bitters
Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond and Fourth street.

Neutral Sulphite of Lime,

A Pittsburgh Monster.
I am the most important man in the world. I am the only Dentist in this world. I never advertise. I am known by everybody. I can do anything better than anybody else. I can do all things well; (everybody don't say so.) I never brag about myself, owing to my extreme modesty. I would not dare to speak in my own praise, because persons of not very discriminating minds would decide me a vain pretender; and so I would be. I do everything that is done, (as any monster would,) I make artificial eyes, noses, ears, heads, hands, hearts, legs, toes, feet, GAS. I frequently make a FOOL of MYSELF. But that I keep quiet, so as not to be found out, (a very judicious part of my mechanism.) I insert teeth for Ten Dollars per set; the best are a better price. I would sell them much cheaper if they grew like blackberries. I extract teeth without pain, and would never charge, if not for the cost of gas. I intend to buy out all pretenders of dentistry and run a big establishment. In this way I can make a specialty, and a little money, and in so doing I would feel sanguine of a large patronage. But with the present shopping trade it is a little fluctuating. I am sometimes at a loss, when a shopper comes in, to tell whether I shall be most successful in offering five dollars to take my teeth, or the teeth for five dollars, for there are so many cases in which either would fail to secure their custom. I don't know why it is I never succeeded in business. I have all I can do to make a living. A great many Pittsburgh dentists consider me a gassy humbug; and that should be sufficient for some men to make a fortune on. But a fool for dollars and a philosopher for common cents. I sometimes gas too much, and other times not enough, but in either case I fail, it doesn't matter how my hair is combed. My gas is a great commodity. Every body will have it. The old people ask for it, and children cry for it. I was first to introduce it in Pittsburgh, after having learned it of Dr. Colton and Dr. Vanderwyd, Chemists at the Cooper Institute, of New York, and other gentlemen of skill in the east; and of course, there is no person in this section of country so well skilled in this agent called gas as myself. All who want to employ a good Dentist will find me equal to C. Sill, 246 Penn street. But some of my competitors think me silly, because I do much business and aspire for money and fame. They should be pleased; it is not ill fame.
I trust no offense will be given.
Yours muchly,
SQUIBLE SQUABABLE, Dentist,
246 Penn street.

Greenbacks are Good,
A "down east" debating club has been recently arguing the question: "Which is the most effective agent in the reduction of the population of civized countries—War, Cholera, Switchmen or Billious Complaints?" After a warm and animated debate, it was decided that that the latter had proven by far the most disastrous, until the discovery of the now celebrated Stomach Bitters and Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills. The club, therefore, actuated by a spirit of philanthropy, have determined to recommend them to the public as a preventive of cholera, and a certain cure for all diseases resulting from Billious affection, and to inform them that they are prepared by Prince, Walton & Co., Nos. 56, 58, 60 and 62 East Third street, Cincinnati, and are for sale by all respectable druggists.

Pearls and Rubies.
White teeth cropping from out of ridges of ruby, a breath spicy as the airs from Araby the Blest. Who can resist such fascinations? To realize them, to perpetuate them, to make the mouth a casket of pearls and rubies, and every sigh a gush of fragrance, all you have to do, fair ladies, is to use that matchless vegetable production, Fragrant Sozodont.

LATE OIL INTELLIGENCE.

For the following items we are mainly indebted to the Reno Times, of Thursday:

THE STORY FARM.

The total production of this farm averages over 650 barrels daily. The specific gravity of the oil is about 43 degrees, and the price commanded fifty cents per barrel higher than that paid for oil at Petroleum Centre, owing to its increased gravity. Well No. 1, on the Columbia Company's tract, formerly flowed 60 barrels and upwards, but has gradually diminished until the present average product does not much exceed 10 barrels. No. 38, adjoining is pumping about 10 barrels. No. 35, struck Sept. 21st, 1865, and for a time pumped and flowed together 55 bbls. The tubing subsequently burst, and had to be repaired a number of times. After a series of ill-luck, the well only commenced pumping again about one month ago. It is now doing 35 barrels daily, and flows and pumps alternately. While flowing it daily produces nearly 90 bbls., and when it requires to be pumped, only 25.

The Perry well has long been pouring out a copious tide of wealth. It is now pumping 45 bbls. No. 26, near by, is capricious, some days producing as high as sixty, and even seventy barrels; on other days not more than thirty. No. 28, more generally known as the Run well, formerly flowed 300 bbls; it is now three years old, and pumps 20 bbls. The Lady well, at a little distance, pumps 25; No. 23, 10 bbls., and the two Gueper wells, on Lease 21, are together producing from 90 to 100 bbls. There are three producing wells on the lease, and their combined daily product is about 70 bbls. The Sheridan well, on the hillside, averages about 15 bbls.

RYND FARM.

This farm on Oil Creek, is owned by the Rynd Farm Oil Company, or rather this Company is the lessee for a long period of years. Mr. E. H. Bell is the General Superintendent of this Company. The tract comprises four hundred acres, stretching from the valley of Cherry Run westward over the bluffs down and across the flats of Oil Creek, and up its western bluffs again.

On the western side of Oil Creek, No. 58, or the Cayuga Well, being one of the two new wells which struck oil some two weeks since, is now pumping about 50 barrels. No. 59, or the Australia Well, is the other recent strike, and now produces 25 barrels.

SHIPMENTS FROM RENO.

The Reno Shipping Company during the week ending Wednesday evening, February 7th, dispatched 7,800 bbls of oil.

Horrible Affair—Wife Murder and Suicide.

One of the most terrible occurences upon record—involving the murder of a wife by an old man of sixty, and his suicide afterward—took place in the township of Rockford, a few miles from Cleveland, on Wednesday night. Frederick Ogden, a German who followed the business of gardening, having become jealous of his wife, murdered her in their bedchamber, by repeated blows of an axe, after a violent struggle on her part. The woman's right arm was broken by a blow from the axe, and upon her lower limbs were various wounds. She had been literally disemboweled, also by blows from the savage weapon in the hands of her husband. The murderer immediately fled, carrying with him the bloody axe, with which he cut a hole in the ice upon a pond, and there in the darkness of the night, ended his career by drowning. His body was discovered next morning by following the traces of blood.

A CONVENTION of the priors and generals of various religious orders was recently held in Rome, for the purpose of devising means of preventing the confiscation of their estates, many of which are situated in Italy. The clergy in Victor Emanuel's dominions are soliciting Napoleon's intervention to the same effect, and the Unita Cattolica publishes upward of seventy such petitions, emanating from Italian conventional establishments and addressed to the French Emperor. In the meanwhile, the Italian Government continues to confiscate one monasterial estate after another.

THE New Yorkers undertake to be proud of the crowded condition of lower Broadway. But London after all surpasses them in the perils of the street. For last year two hundred and thirty-two persons were killed in the streets of that great metropolis. The Times says "the city is not to be traversed without as much delay and risk as would be encountered in a savage country." The dangers of railway traveling are not to be compared to those of traveling in London. The safest thoroughfare in the city is the underground railway.

VERY LATEST TELEGRAMS.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Hall read an act to revise and amend the penal laws of the Commonwealth to punish frauds upon the national currency.

BILLS CONSIDERED.—An act authorizing appeals from interlocutory orders granting special injunctions. Passed finally.

An act to encourage the manufacture of iron with coke and mineral coal and for other purposes was passed to third reading and laid over.

An act regulating the granting of licenses and punishing unlicensed sale of liquors in the County of Allegheny. Passed finally.

An act to increase the boundaries of Forest county. Passed finally.

An act punishing the purchase of scrap iron or other metals from minors in Allegheny county, was called up by Mr. Graham and passed finally.

Adjourned until Tuesday at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE.

Messrs. Glass, Danks, Shaffer, Slack, Negley, and Pillow presented petitions of citizens of Southwestern Pennsylvania, to repeal the act repealing the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad charter.

Mr. Danks offered a resolution directing the Committee on Judiciary General to report a bill to make a day's labor end at four o'clock on election days.

Mr. Glass, from Committee on Corporations, reported a bill to incorporate the Central Park Skating Association; also, a bill to incorporate the Monongahela Railroad.

Mr. Sturtevant, to change the name of Union Land and Mineral Company to the Erie and Allegheny Railroad Company, and to authorize the same to mortgage their stock; also a supplement to an act regulating railroads, adopted 1849.

An act to allow the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad to build branches, was postponed and ordered to be printed.

BILLS IN PLACE.—Mr. Sturtevant, to extend the Erie and the Allegheny Valley Railroad to connect with the Pittsburgh and Erie by way of Titusville.

Mr. Quay, to increase the fees of District Attorneys and other officers in Washington county. Laid over.

Mr. Slack presented the petition of the Pittsburgh Council, asking to pass a law to allow railroad connections with Cleveland and Pittsburgh; also to grant a liberal railroad law.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Canadian Governor Arrived.

GEN. PRIM OFFERS TO SURRENDER.

Russian Negotiations with the Pope.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Cunard steamship Australasian, from Liverpool at four o'clock on the afternoon of the 27th, and Queenstown on the 28th, has arrived here.

Lord Monck, the Canadian Governor, is a passenger.

The Paris Constitutionel, in an article on the Mexican question, says: Drouyn de L'Huys could not give an explanation with regard to the internal administration of Mexico, for which the Mexican government is responsible. It adds that the United States cannot call resistance by plundering adventurers war, after refusing the title of beligerents to the confederates.

The Patrie says the official Yellow Book will not contain dispatches between France and America on the Mexican question, as that question is still pending.

The cattle plague continues on the increase. On Monday, the returns show, for the first time, over ten thousand cases.

The Fenian trials continue daily. The Dublin police had seized a number of swords and bayonets in a Fenian lodge. Arms had been seized at Belfast.

A vessel in the Tagus, on the point of sailing for Peru, was detained at the instance of the Spanish Consul, who alleged she designed to make war on the Spanish commerce under the Chilian flag.

The Bank of France has gained nearly three and three quarter millions francs in bullion during the week.

The Queen of Spain gave birth to a son on the 24th ult.

An official dispatch says: General Prim, with six hundred cavalry, had arrived at Barrancos, in Portugal, and declared his readiness to deliver up his horses and accoutrements to the Spanish commander.

The Spanish Senate's address, in response to the Queens speech, expresses regret at the hostilities with Chili, but trusts the Government will cause the honor and dignity of Spain to be respected.

It is stated that France lately suggested to England to hold a conference on the Schleswig-Holstein question, but England declined.

The formal opening of Parliament by the Queen in person would not take place till the 6th inst.

The Times shows hostility to a moderate reform measure, and contends that a bill which only deals with the franchise will not deserve the name of a reform bill.

The Papier Wanderer, of Vienna, says: We learn on reliable authority, that Russia has solicited the friendly offices of the Prussian Cabinet to bring about a renewal of Diplomatic relations between Russia and Rome. Prussia declared her readiness to comply with this request, and instructed her representative at the Holy See to open negotiations at once with Cardinal Antonelli, with a view to obtain the Pope's acceptance of Prussian meditation.

The Journal de Commerce, of Lisbon, says that General Prim would be received in Portugal as a Spaniard who has attempted, though unsuccessfully, to liberate his country from despotism.

It is reported that Chilian privateers have appeared off Valencia, and chased some coasting vessels. The Spanish press denounces them as pirates.

Liverpool, Jan. 27, P. M.—The sales of Cotton to-day amounted to 6,000 bales, including 1,500 bales on speculation and for export. Prices irregular and generally rate lower. In breadstuffs there is nothing doing to-day, and quotations are unchanged. Provisions quiet and without alteration.

London, Jan. 28.—The Paris Bourse closed flat yesterday, at 68f 55c for Rentes.

London, Jan. 27.—Consuls closed to-day at 86¾@87. American Securities, rather easier, closing at 66@66¼ for U. S. 5-20's, and 55@55½ for Erie shares. Sugar sold to-day at full rates. Other articles unchanged.

Liverpool, Feb. 27.—Morning—Beef steady, and at late rates. Pork quiet; new American 87s 6d@82s 6d. Bacon with a ready sale, at a further advance of 1s per hundred, on account of the report from New York of short supplies. Lard with little demand, at 65@66 on the spot, and 6d to arrive. Wheat in moderate demand, with full prices realized; Winter Red 10s 4d@10s 7d; Chicago and Milwaukee 9s 10d@10s 7d. Indian Corn in fair request, at 29s@29s 3d for mixed American. Cheese at extreme rates; Butter dull and ending nominal.

From San Francisco, Montana, Sandwich Islands and Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The Virginia City, Montana Post and Courier of January 20th, states that a large quantity of merchandise has been seized by the Revenue Collector, for not having the Inspector's mark upon it to show that the duty had been paid thereon. The merchants will suffer a severe loss. Treasury notes are selling at 90c, for gold dust; currency drafts are three per cent premium. Flour $30 per sack. Bacon 55@57½ per pound.

Mining stocks are active and advancing. Ophir, 450; Savage, 918; Imperial, 114; Chollar Potosi, 255; Yellow Jacket, 415; Hale and Norcross, 10,40; Crown Point, 850; Legal Tenders, 73@73½.

Advices from Honolulu to the 24th of January state that great damage had been done by a hurrican there.

The financial affairs of the Kingdom were creating considerable excitement. The Honolulu Chamber of Commerce favors the plan of issuing treasury notes to raise money.

Australian dates of 17th November state that oil has been struck near Hartley, New South Wales, yielding one hundred and forty gallons of crude or one hundred gallons of refined oil per day. The company owning the property calculate when they get thoroughly to work to refine twenty thousand gallons of oil per week, and supply consumers of it at forty-three cents per gallon.

Mail Robbery at Williamsport.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., Feb. 9.—The mail that should have left here this morning at 2 o'clock was robbed after being delivered at the railroad depot. The bags were found above the depot, cut open and their contents [illegible].

FROM WASHINGTON.

Carbines and Breech-Loading Muskets.

BUTLER'S NOTE TO GEN. GRANT.

Bank Reserved Profits and Deposits.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The board of officers will assemble at Washington, D. C., March 10th, 1866, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to examine upon the following questions and make recommendations thereon: First, What form and calibre of a breech loading arm should be adopted as a model for future construction of muskets for infantry. Second, What form and calibre should be adopted as a model for future construction of carbines for cavalry. Third, What form of breech loading arm should be adopted as a model for change of muskets already constructed to breech loading muskets. Whoever submits an arm to the above board will be required to state in writing the least price at which it will be furnished in the event of its being adopted by the government. The Chief of Ordnance will furnish the board all the information in his power, and will also provide it with office room, stationery, and a place for experimental firing targets, ammunition &c. The report will be made through the Chief of Ordnance. Major General Hancock is the senior officer of the board.

The Tribune's Washington special gives the following as the true note that was returned by B. F. Butler, Esq., to the Lieutenant General's carte de invite to his reception:

"Gen. Butler has the honor to decline the invitation of Lieut. Gen. Grant. Gen. Butler has now no desire for future acquaintance."

The Herald's special says: General Spinner has decided that in order to be in harmony with the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and with the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury, to classify reserved profits as capital instead of deposits as now. As the duty on both is the same, this will not affect any banks that hold of United States stocks an amount less or equal to the amount of capital. Such banks, however, that hold United States stocks in excess of their capital would be able to deduct the amount of such excess from the item of reserved profits so classified as capital.

Col. Rowland, on behalf of the Northern Pacific Railroad, notified the government two days ago that the company was prepared and about to construct the line. Subscriptions will soon appear throughout the country, and a strong effort made to push the work vigorously.

CASE OF THE CHILIAN AGENT.

LETTER FROM SENOR MACKENNA.

Mysterious Circumstances Explained.

EXECUTION POSTPONED.

NATIONAL CURRENCY COUNTERFEITER CONVICTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Senor Mackenna publishes a letter in the Herald, this morning, attempting to explain the circumstances connected with the recent proceedings against him, by the authorities, on suspicion of his implication in a scheme to fit out an expedition in this city, to assist Chili in her war with Spain. He says that all the mysterious details, and novel incidents of his arrest, and the inventions of all sorts published by the press, are each and all of them fictions, gotten up to excite curiosity, or perhaps, have been dictated by less noble motives. He is assured that Spanish agents were found in the neighborhood of his house at the time when the attempt to take him to prison took place and that these same agents insisted that the public functionary should execute it.

He says that at this time he will not say a single word with regard to his alleged proposition to fit out an expedition against the dominions of the Queen of Spain, neither will he explain the errors made by telegraph in the transmission of the dispatches of Mr. Asta Buruzea, the Chilian Minister at Washington for all this in the proper time will come before the tribunal of justice and before the grand jury of public opinion.

He adds: "I will come forward alone to maintain the justice and legality of my proceedings, and then the people of the United States and the civilized world in general shall know of the grand principles which were the glory, the power and the prestige of this country in the olden time are to-day only shadows of the past, or, if they may still be seen, like a rainbow of hope by freemen and free people, who may be subjected to the aggressions of crowned usurpers from the Rio Grande to the Archipelago of Chiloe."

The execution of Jno. Hackett for murder, which was to have taken place at the Tombs to-day, has been postponed, a stay of proceedings having been granted for the purpose of taking his case to the Supreme Court.

A verdict of guilty was yesterday rendered by the jury in the case of Nelson Steward, tried in the U. S. District Court in Brooklyn on a charge of counterfeiting National currency. He will be sentenced on Wednesday next.

A report prevails in the city to the effect that Archy Hughes, the well-known minstrel, was shot by a South American rebel refugee in Montreal, C. E., on Wednesday night.

THE WAR IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Precipitate Retreat of the Paraguayans.

COMBINED ATTACK OF THE ALLIES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A Buenos Ayres correspondent writes, the loss of all the Paraguayan troops that had invaded Brazil, by crossing the Uruguay river, was followed by a precipitate retreat to their own territory of all their forces that were occupying Corientes. For more than a week the work of concentrating the allied land and naval forces had progressed, so that on the 25th of January they would make a combined attack with 45,000 troops and thirty war steamers, on the Paraguayan stronghold of Humaita, on the Paraguay river. This is a place of immense strength, mounting over one hundred heavy guns and rendered difficult of approach by chains extending across the channel, and it is also supposed by submerged torpedoes, and having to back it a Paraguayan army of from 15,000 to 20,000 men, and a considerable fleet. The march of the allies in pursuit of the retreating Paraguayans across the province of Corientes to the Paraguayan river, for three hundred miles, through an almost uninhabited country, is described as one of the greatest difficulty and suffering, hundreds of the soldiers having perished on the way and many others deserted.

IMPORTANT FROM PERU.

War Declared Against Spain.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The steamer New York, from Aspinwall has arrived with dates to the 1st.

From Peru we learn that Dictator Prado made an offensive and defensive alliance with Chili, and declared war against Spain. It was hoped at Lima that other South American republics, and especially Columbia, would accede to the treaty. Two Peruvian frigates and two steam corvettes left to effect a junction with the Chilian fleet.

All Spaniards residing in the province of Lima received orders not to leave the country and to have their names registered for surveillance.

The Peruvian Government has also taken other measures to have reprisals at hand in case the Spanish fleet should take possession of any part of the coast, or inflict any other heavy damage. Mails from Valparaiso, not received by the sailing vessel at Callao from the suthern coast, reported the entire Spanish fleet concentrated at Valparaiso. That city is probably thoroughly blockaded and perhaps has been attacked by the Spaniards. The attempted revolution in Panama was frustrated.

Nothing important from Central America. All States at peace.

Serious Railroad Accident.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Near Bloomfield, New Jersey, a train broke through a rotten bridge. Some of the cars fell into the creek, and were completely shattered against the stone foundation of the bridge. Milton Holt, of Montclair was killed. Those injured were Jos. Davis, of Bloomfield, very seriously; Jos. Dyremus, of Montclair, severely bruised; Vanwyck Graham, teller of the Phoenix Bank had his head injured; Mr. Brodegan, of Montclair, bruised head and body; S. Arbuthnot, conductor, severely bruised; a news boy named Owens was considerably injured; many others hurt, but not seriously.

Nebraska Legislature.

OMAHA, NEBRASKA, February 9.—The Legislature formed the State Constitution to be submitted to the people on the 2d of June. The election of State officers will take place at the same time.

Agent Absconded.

ST. MARY'S, C. W., Feb. 9.—Phelps, an agent of the American Express Co., has absconded, taking with him $12,000. He has gone to Europe.

Dr. Hughes Hanged.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 9.—John W. Hughes, the murderer of Miss Tamzen Parsons, was hanged at 1:07, P. M., to-day. He died easily.

FRIENDLY TALK FROM NAPOLEON.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

Spanish Threats Against Chili.

NEW YORK, February 9.—Horace Greely was elected President of the American Institute.

The Paris correspondent of the Herald says of the opening of the French Legislature: The ceremony was remarkable from the fact that for the first time, the Prince Imperial, instead of coming in with the Empress as a child and remaining with her in the Tribune, occupid a place at the right of the Emperor, as heir to the throne of France, the Prince Napoleon occupying the seat on his left.

The Emperor was evidently very anxious to know what impression his speech created among the American community in Paris. This morning, in conversation with an American professional gentleman who is greatly in his confidence, he asked him what was the feeling among the Americans relative to that portion of his speech relating to the United States and Mexico, and upon being informed that it was highly favorable, his Majesty replied he was very glad of it, as it was his intention and desire, in the preparation of his discourse, to assure the United States Government that his feelings toward it were of the most amicable nature.

The Post's Washington special says the Committee on Ways and Means will take up the subject of general taxation on Tuesday next.

The Dodge vs. election case, will occupy at least ten days longer in the hearing. The counsel of Mr. Dodge will close the present action of the case next Tuesday.

The receipts from internal revenue from July 1st, 1865, to February 1st, 1866, reached $200,959,360.09, being $934,604.50 per day, and it is estimated that under the present system the receipts to July 1st, 1866, will amount to $300,000,000.

The Madrid Epoca of January 22d says of the Chilian war: The whole country will side with the Government, urging it to spare no sacrifice by which it may give to understand to that weak, no less than proud republic, by which we are insulted, that the days of Acayucho are past, and we have the means, will and energy to force her to give us the fullest satisfaction, after having wreaked upon her the most terrible vengeance.

XXXIXth CONGRESS--FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, February 9, 1866.

SENATE.

Mr. Cowan presented a petition in favor of a protective tariff, and Mr. Sherman presented one for a reduction of the tax on agricultural implements, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Guthrie, of Kentucky, presented the credentials of George Houston, Senator elect from Alabama for the short term. Mr. Guthrie stated that Mr. Houston, during the war, was a consistent Union man. The credentials were ordered to lie upon the table.

Mr. Sherman presented a resolution which was agreed to, calling upon the Secretary of War for a compendium of the medical statistics collected during the war.

Mr. Davis, of Kentucky, offered a resolution declaring that as charges of speculation and fraud had been made against the cotton agents of the Treasury Department, therefore,

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to investigate such charges.

Mr. Davis had been informed, from various sources, of the truth of these charges. He had been told by a friend of his, who had means of knowing, that within his own experience in the South there was not a man connected with the Treasury Department, within a sweep of a thousand miles, who had not been corrupted. He would agree to substantiate the charges if the committee was formed.

Mr. Sherman said that the charge of Mr. Davis was very sweeping in its character. The Secretary of the Treasury had told him that the most violent charges were generally brought against the most faithful officers. He called upon Mr. Davis to make a specific charge, and he would guarantee a fair investigation.

Mr. Davis called for the appointment of a committee, the majority of whom would be favorable to a fair investigation. He had been told that Gen. Dana, while in command on the Mississippi, had seized and appropriated cotton, damaging a private citizen, and used the proceeds for his own benefit. He did not think it fair to place such investigation in the hands of men who wanted to stifle it. He could ask nothing more than a fair committee.

Mr. Sherman said that while he was a member of the House he never sanctioned an investigation of charges against a Democratic administration, until they were properly certified to. He had no objection to the proposition of Mr. Davis if there was reasonable ground for it.

Mr. Davis said he would agree to prove other frauds than cotton frauds, if the committee was raised. He would endeavor to prove frauds in the name of the Government, committed by Federal officers in Kentucky.

Mr. Fessenden, of Maine, was afraid that Mr. Davis looked upon every one connected with the Government, with such a jaundiced eye, that he would, if charged with the investigation proposed, unintentionally do them injustice. He could not, therefore, agree with Mr Sherman that Mr. Davis might, with propriety be entrusted with the conduct of such an investigation.

While he (Mr. Fessenden) had charge of these cotton agencies he had heard of a great many assertions against men, but they were all unfounded. Finally he adopted a rule to compel all charges to be reduced to writing, and after that he had heard no more complaints. He could find no man willing to take the responsibility of making charges against these agents.

He believed the present Secretary of the Treasury to be competent and faithful in the discharge of his duties. He repelled the charge that Mr. McCulloch had refused to do justice to any man, and he was opposed to these fishing Committees being raised on general charges. He would favor an investigation on specific or a specific charge. He hoped the Committee would not be appointed until something definite was given to the Senate on the subject.

Mr. Conness moved the postponement of the subject under consideration, for the purpose of taking up the bill to extend the time for the withdrawal of goods from public warehouses.

Mr. McDougal offered an amendment to Mr. Davis' resolution, so as to make it include an investigation into all the charges against Government officers at New Orleans and in the Mississippi Department.

Mr. Conness moved to lay Mr. Davis' resolution on the table, which was negatived.

Mr. Davis said he knew of several who had gone into the army very poor and had become rich on very moderate salaries. He confessed he had his prejudices on this subject, and that he would commence the investigation with a conviction that there was a great deal of swindling done. He would not ask to be upon the committee, if raised. All he would ask was a fair committee and a fair investigation, by such committee. Such an investigation would bring millions into the Treasury.

Pending this discussion the morning hour expired, and the Joint resolution to amend the Constitution of the United States was taken up.

Mr. Johnson took the floor. In the remarks he was about to make, he would address himself first to the consideration of the resolution in order to ascertain its exact meaning; secondly, to the supposed necessity which causes such an amendment, and thirdly to its effect upon the condition of the country.

In this, as upon every other case upon which human judgement is to be exercised, it is very important that we should very distinctly understand what the measure under consideration is. The second section of the fourth article of the Constitution regulates the mode in which representation and taxation are to be ascertained. It makes both depend on the same fact. Representation is to be apportioned according to numbers and direct taxation is to be apportioned in the same way. As the resolution was first reported from the Committee, it stood in that way upon the recommitment. The provision which it originally contained in relation to direct taxation was annulled, and it now stands as a proposition to amend the Constitution, so as to affect alone the second section of the first article of the Constitution, as it relates to the mode in which the number of representatives is to be ascertained.

The Senate will remember that representation was based upon numbers with two exceptions. The first exception was Indians not taxed; the other was that portion of the people in the Southern States which was held in slavery was not to be taken into the account to its entire extent, but only to the extent of three fifths of the whole population since as the Constitution now stands slavery no longer exists. The Southern States would be entitled to representatives for the whole number of people, then the effect of the proposed amendment, with the exception of the proviso, is to make no change in the corresponding requirements of the constitution, except that it omits the provision that three-fifths only of a certain class shall be counted.

At the conclusion of Mr. Johnson's remarks the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Donnelly introduced a memorial of the State of Minnesota, for the improvement of navigation of the Mississippi river to the Falls of St. Anthony.

Mr. Elliott, of Massachusetts, moved the House proceed to the business on the table.

Mr. Le Blond, of Ohio, enquired what business the gentleman (Mr. Elliott,) desired to get at.

Mr. Elliott replied that the gentleman (Mr. Le Blond,) would know, when the House agreed to his motion.

Mr. Le Blond merely wanted to know whether there was negro in it or not.

The House agreed to the motion of Mr. Elliott.

Major General Osterhaus was formally introduced to the House. The Speaker made a brief speech, to which General Osterhaus responded and was greeted with applause. The members were then personally introduced to him.

Generals Crook and Ward were also severally introduced to the House amid applause. The Speaker introduced them in appropriate terms, to which they responded.

The Speaker said: When the storm clouds of war burst over the land, the hearts of all loyal people were warmed toward those brave men who stood by the imperilled flag. As they had just heard from the gentleman from Kentucky, Mr. Smith, the gentleman at his side, Gen. Ward was one of those men to whom the country does honor. He had, therefore, the greatest pleasure in introducing him to the House. [Applause.]

Gen. Ward cordially thanked the House for the honor received at their hands. When that unnatural and terrible rebellion commenced he resolved in the inmost recesses of his heart [illegible] contest, laid down his arms, but kept faith. He had now returned to civil life, and among the evidences of friendship extended to him he should ever highly cherish in grateful remembrance the kindness and friendship expressed for him here to-day. [Applause.]

The House concurred in the Senate's amendments to the Freedmen's Bureau bill.

The House proceeded to act on the amendments reported from the Committee of the Whole to the Navy appropriation bill.

The House concurred in the report of the Committee of the Whole by 73 against 68 striking out the appropriation of $298,000 for a machine shop and main building at the Brooklyn navy yard; also $191,000 for a machine, shop, and some other items were stricken out. The item of $105,000 for the island adjoining the Portsmouth yard was retained. All items for the Boston navy yard rere retained except $25,000 for the purchase of the right of drainage through the yard, now held by the city of Charleston; $167,381 for office buildings, and $135,000 for the purchase of Oakman and Eldridge's wharf, $20,000 each for the protection of public property at Norfolk and Pensacola yards were retained, all others for those yards being expunged.

An additional section was added, making appropriations as bounties for the destruction of the enemy's vessels during the rebellion applicable to all cases; also, a new section that no part of the amount appropriated shall be paid in violation of the act prescribing the oath of office.

In this form the bill passed.

The Bankrupt Bill was taken up, and various sections discussed.

A bill was introduced giving three months pay to officers honorably discharged since the 19th of April, 1865. Referred to the Military Committee.

Adjourned.

Virginia Delegation to Call on the President—Papers Relating to Jeff. Davis' Case—The Freedmen's Bureau Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The committee appointed by the Virginia Legislature have arrived here to communicate to the President the resolutions of that body, approving his policy with reference to restoration, and expressing a determination to co-operate with him in the wise, firm and just policy adopted by him, with all the energy and power they can devote to the subject. Owing to the prolonged session of the cabinet the interview is fixed for to-morrow.

The President, to-day, transmitted to the House of Representatives, communications from the Secretary of War and the Attorney General, in reply to a resolution requesting him, if not incompatible with the public interests, to furnish any report or reports made by the Judge Advocate General, or any other officer of the Government, as to the grounds, facts, or accusations upon which Jeff. Davis, Clement C. Clay, Jr., Stephen R. Mallory and David L. Yulee, or either of them, are held in confinement.

The Freedmen's Bureau bill, having passed both Houses, will soon be presented to the President for his signature. The bill, as it now stands, does not restrict the operations of the Bureau to the States in which the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus was suspended on the 1st inst, as amended by the House but disagreed to by the Senate.

Sale of Ordnance Stores at Fortress Monroe.

FORT MONROE, Feb. 8.—A large sale of Ordinance stores took place here to-day. Good prices were obtained, but a large number of articles had to be withdrawn on account of the bids made not reaching the minimum rates established by the Government.

About five hundred old cannon, rebel and otherwise, were sold at from one to two and one-half cents per pound. Three Gatling guns brought $51 each; twelve steel guns 21 1-16c per pound; Burnside carbines $10 each. There was also sold a miscellaneous collection of old muskets, smooth bore and rifled, blacksmith's tools etc., etc.

The stormy weather still continues. The wind is north-easterly.

A fleet of some forty vessels is in the harbor awaiting a chance to sail, among which are the barks Delaware, for Rio Janeiro, Eliza Raymond, for New York, Susan Jane, for New York, and the brigs Clara, Ellen, and Navarino, for New York.

Refinery Burned—Locomotive Explosion—Loss of Life.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Kingsland Oil Company's works, on Newtown creek, were burned last night. Loss $35,000; about one-third insured.

There was an accident on the Flemington railroad, New Jersey, on Wednesday. A train ran off the track owing to the breaking of a rail. The locomotive was demolished by the explosion of the boiler, and the engineer killed and fireman severely scalded. The cars did not go over the embankment. No passengers were hurt.

Murderers Executed in Wheeling—New Capital of West Virginia Chosen.

WHEELING, WEST VA., Feb. 9.—Grogan and Boyce, sentenced for the murder of Adam Deems, were executed in Parkersburg to-day. The ropes broke in the first attempt. Both men again mounted the scaffold, stronger ropes were obtained, when they were hanged separately.

The bill providing for the permanent location of the Capital at Buckhannon, was passed by the House yesterday.

Meeting of the National Democratic Executive Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The National Democratic Executive Committee have had a meeting for general consultation, but did not come to any determination as to recommending any particular or special course of policy to be hereafter pursued by the Democratic party.

A mass meeting is advertised to sustain the restoration policy of the President, to take place on the 23d of February.

Chambersburg Relief Bill Passed.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9.—The bill appropriating five hundred thousand dollars for the relief of the Chambersburg sufferers, passed the House last night.

Maryland Registration Law.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—The Maryland Legislature adjourned last night. It refused to entertain the proposition to amend or repeal the Registration Law.

GENERAL NEWS.

JUST think of prosaic Connecticut originating in our day such a romance as the following:

Norwalk is exercised about body-snatchers, who, on Sunday night last, dug up the body of a young lady who had been buried that afternoon, and succeeded beyond their anticipations. She had been buried while in a cataleptic fit, and upon being exposed to the night air, animation was restored. The resurrectionists fled, and she walked home. Her parents refused to admit her, believing her to be a ghost. She then went to the house of a young man to whom she was engaged. He took her in, and on Monday morning they were married.

A BILL has been passed by the House, which looks to the prevention of parties returning their incomes on a "gold basis." It would seem that this practice has been largely indulged in, and the Treasury has been a severe sufferer thereby. The bill also compels parties owning foreign stocks or railroad bonds abroad to return the value of the same on a currency basis.

THE Ohio Farmer says the dairymen who have been prospecting for cows for next season's use, report a bare market and high prices. Any little scrub of a heifer coming in in the spring, will command $40, while fair cows figure up to $60 and $70 each. Farmers have plenty of feed and great faith in the future of the dairy business.

REPORTED WINDFALL.—A dispatch from Chicago says: A rumor is afloat on the street, apparently well authenticated, that Col. S. H. Wood, proprietor of Wood's Museum, has been made the lucky heir to property valued at 160,000 pounds sterling by the recent decease of an uncle residing in England. Most of the property is understood to be located in New York.

EXTRAORDINARY NOVEMBER HEAT IN AUSTRALIA.—Australian papers make mention of sudden and intense heat in the middle of November affecting the health of very many persons. The Melbourne Age says that at Beechworth several animals, principally cats and dogs, died of sunstroke.

The Medina Gazette says a son of Mr. Lew, of Lodi, fell while on his way home from school, on the 23d ult. The little fellow had an umbrella-brace in his hands when he fell, and somehow it entered his mouth, penetrating through the roof into the brain, which caused his death.

JUDGE RUSSELL, of New York, got a reputation a few years ago for sentencing a garroter to forty years' imprisonment. It has recently come out that the next week after the Judge saw his friend, Gov. Seymour, and got the man pardoned out. He became a good Democratic voter.

JOHN C. JEWELL, of Sanbornton, N. H., drowned himself in sight of his father's house a few days ago. He was a young man twenty-one years old, of unblemished character and promising intellect, but had got discouraged in trying to gain an education by his own efforts.

THE English Lutheran congregation at Altoona have contributed the sum of four thousand nine hundred dollars, in the recent effort to increase the endowment fund of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg.

THE Chicago people are intent on having a cotton factory. The entire capital stock proposed is $500,000, of which $250,000 have already been subscribed.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

—The first centenary mass meeting upon a grand scale, took place some days since in New York, in the marble-palatial edifice, St. Paul's M. E. Church, Hon. James Harlan, Secretary of the Interior, presided, and delivered a brief address. Addresses were also delivered by Bishops Simpson and James, and by Dr. McClintock, recently pastor of the American chapel in Paris, France. The presiding officer was assisted by one hundred and fifteen Vice Presidents, and three Secretaries. Secretary Harlan, in the course of his remarks on taking the chair, stated the wealth and the power of the world are in the hands of Christian nations; as the United States overshadowing every other people on this side of the Atlantic; England, perhaps, the greatest power in existence; France heading the Catholic nations; and Russia at the head of the Greek Church. He also said the Methodist Church in this country represents about one-eighth of the population, and an equal, at least, to the average of the people in intelligence and wealth, and so are responsible to that extent for the moral culture of the people. Reference was then made to the overwhelming motives to effort. Space will only allow a brief reference to some points presented in the closing speech of Dr. McClintock. The doctor commenced by saying that he had asked the committee to allow him to speak earlier in the evening, because, in fact, it is impossible to speak when a congregation is carried up to the hight to which Bishop Simpson always carries them, and because he knew Bishop Simpson would take away a great deal of his speech. As already stated, we can only give a thought or so from his masterly speech and that in a condensed form. * * * During a visit to England he obtained a history of the Oxford Methodists, as the work styled them, in which a statement of how the beginnings of Methodism were at that time, doctrine, and so on, the writer closes up with this remark: In consequence of these people adopting these principles, they never can become a very large body." The prediction was unverified. While reading the Life of Bishop Warburton, the author of the Divine Legation of Moses, the doctor said, he came across a passage there of Bishop Hurd's who had written a review of controversial tracts against Wesleyan Methodism, saying that "this little sect of Methodists will be remembered possibly in history hereafter, because Bishop Warburton wrote against them." How mistaken these Bishops! That is a hundred years ago. A brief passage and we close the article: What a providence it is that our century's close came in 1866, and not as it perhaps might have done in 1863! What would our centenary have been if we had had to commemorate it in 1863, amid the perpetual roll of drums, the everlasting bray of trumpets, and the tremendous tread of legions, rivalling in number the legendary hosts of the ancient stories—amid the loud sounds of distant thunders—amid our own sighs, tears, and anxieties that could not be quieted—throbbing hearts thinking of the boys out yonder under the cold sky, or facing the flashing guns! Could we have dared to face the future, when we were trembling to the heart over the destinies and the movements of every hour? That is all gone, Thank God! (Loud responses of "Amen.") That mighty pall is lifted. Three years ago our Israel was in his bonds still, and Pharoah and his hosts were mighty upon the land. Oh! how is it now? The hosts have sunk out of sight—sunk literally out of sight—gone from the face of the earth, just as certainly as Pharoah's were whelmed in the Red Sea. And where are the bonds, the fetters, and the manacles now? Buried they, too, forever and ever! (Applause.) And, dear friends, this is the Centenary of Methodism—of all years in the hundred, this is the year for our joys and triumphs. (Renewed applause.) Would to God that the Moses who led our Israel out were alive this day!

—The Presbyterian thinks that the use of an organ to assist and harmonize the voice while celebrating Divine praise is proper, but when left to the caprices of an organist it mars the worship. Reference is then made to one of the abuses—the long-drawn and meaningless interlude between the verses of a psalm or hymn. Instead of a few notes to afford sufficient breathing time to the singer, we usually hear a flourish by the organist, which, so far from being praise, is its antagonist.

—The Lutheran and Missionary contains a translation from the Zeitschrift of the conversion of a Catholic preist, Rev. Dr. Franz, Joseph Badenfield, a native of Austria, who on reaching New York was thrown among the Lutherans, and had such beneficient intercourse and instruction from them which led him on Christmas Eve in the presence of Rev. G. W. Drees' congregation to renounce Roman errors and declare his unqualified assent to Lutheran doctrines and principles. On Christmas he celebrated the Lord's supper, and the following day preached his first Lutheran sermon to a large audience.

—The average attendance at the South Mission Sabbath School, St. Louis, Missouri, during the past year has been 1,144; the smallest attendance was during the months of August and September. On the occasion of the presentation of a Bible to the Superintendent, 1,577 were present. From 1,200 to 1,400 copies of children's papers are circulated every Sunday to the scholars.

—The New York Tribune, referring to the extraordinary demand for seats in Rev. H. W. Beecher's church, thinks that the same could be paralleled in that city if the congregation would consent to put up their seats, annually, at auction. It says no pew can be had in Dr. Adam's church, on Madison Square. All the seats in the church are sold, even to campstools. A list of families, in the hands of the committee, who are waiting for seats, exceed one hundred.

—Recent intelligence from Spain shows that the Progressive party will be satisfied, in Church matters, with nothing short of a complete destruction of the Catholic Church, the abolishment of all orders of Monks and Nuns and the abandonment of all Convents, while the Liberals would not go quite so far, but would be satisfied with "a reformation of the Church."

—A correspondent of a Chicago paper, writing from San Francisco, says the Jews are desperately opposed to Christianity, but do not expect to make proselytes outside of their own nation. They are, perhaps, 100,000 strong in San Francisco. They have two splendid synagogues—one worth $75,000, and the other $175,000.

—We learn from the Christian Instructor that the committee on the new version of the Psalms for the United Presbyterian Church, are laboriously engaged in this great work, and are about to commit to the press sixty-two more versions for the examination of the churches.

—It has been ascertained from reliable sources by the Young Men's Christian Association at Elmira, New York, that since Mr. Hammond, the noted revivalist, first visited that city, a few over one thousand conversions have occurred, and still the work of grace goes on with power.

—Dr. Huntington, we believe, one of the clergyman who was voted for Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Pittsburgh, estimates that two-thirds of the Episcopal ministers of this country formerly belonged to other denominations.

—The Catholic Archbishop of Baltimore has recently preached against certain abominations of fashionable life, and especially the "German," refusing absolution and the sacrament to any who should indulge it.

—The receipts of the Women's Penny Society, in New Hampshire, in sixty years, amount to almost sixty-four thousand dollars.

—Let every reader think of the saying—To be shamed out of Heaven is to be shamed into hell!

A WAR OF RACES.

The conversation reported to have taken place between the President and a number of colored gentlemen, while it makes no disclosures of the policy that high functionary has determined to pursue, beyond what was stated in his talk with Senator DIXON, does reveal the motive under the influence of which he desires to have the credit of acting, so far as relates to the black population. He proposes to withhold from four millions of people all political rights in order to prevent a war of races in which they could not fail of decimation, and might possibly be annihilated.

A good many wars have happened since the world was made, and many more are likely to occur before the final winding up of subunary affairs. There have been wars between distinct races; wars between two or more tribes of one race, and wars between different factions of one tribe. All these sorts of wars will, doubtless, in the progress of events, be repeated. But wherein one sort is more ferocious than another we fail to perceive. The bloodiness and cruelties of a particular war, depend not at all on diversity or identity of race among the belligerants; but on the violence of the passions involved. The war recently closed out in this country illustrates the point. For obstinacy on both sides, and for savageness on one side, the current century furnishes no parallel to this war. Yet during this same century, there have been notable wars, in which the belligerents were of different races: as the war of the French with the Algerians, and the war of the British in India.

Did such a thing as CROMWELL's slaughter of the Irish, or the slaughter of the French by each other, during the Reign of Terror, or on ST. BARTHOLOMEW's Day ever happen in what is termed a war of races? If so, we should be glad to have the instance pointed out.

There was, indeed, a rising of the blacks in St. Domingo upon the whites, and a terrible slaughter of the latter. But surely no reader of history will affirm that the brutality of the blacks towards the whites surpassed the atrocities practiced by whites upon whites at Badajos and Madgeburg.

But what lesson does that St. Domingo case teach? The blacks had been admitted to the enjoyment of their rights, and so long as that order of things existed were orderly, industrious, and loyal. It was only when an attempt was made to deprive them of their rights that they became infuriated, and turned upon their oppressors. Men in the quiet and undisturbed possession of their rights, are never dangerous.

A war of races may happen in the Southern States. So long as human nature remains what it is, conflicts of interests, and passions, and prejudices are likely to arise. But stop, and consider how such a war would be probably brought on, and which side would most probably be the aggressor. Such a war could hardly fail of originating in one of two ways; either by withholding rights from the blacks, or, after having conceded them, attempting to take them away.

It is at least conceivable that the blacks, emancipated from slavery, and being at liberty to carve out a course for themselves, will accumulate property, acquire education, and develope a fair degree of intelligence. Only the most debased of white men pretend to think differently. With such an improvement in their condition, if political rights should be steadily withheld, it is probable they might imitate the uniform example set them by white people, under such circumstances, and seek to gain by violence what was withheld by force. Why has Ireland been in a state of chronic insurrection for two centuries and a half? Why have Poland and Hungary, for fifty years, either been sullenly conspiring, or flashing out in mutiny? Why does English rule in India constantly rest on a volcano that may throb into an earthquake at any moment? There is but one answer to these questions; which is, that it is always dangerous for any nation systematically to oppress large portions of its inhabitants.

So, too, it is clearly within the realm of probability that an attempt to re-enslave the blacks, would lead to their uprising, and to scenes at which humanity would shrink back affrighted. It would be perilous, after conceding to so large a population, any essential rights, to undertake by force or guile, afterwards to wrench those rights away. But, if the blacks, so encroached upon, should strike back, at whose door would rest the blame?

Now, we are not disposed to impeach the sincerity of the President in the apprehension he professes to entertain. We feel those same apprehensions as strongly as he does. There is danger of an ultimate collision between the blacks and the whites of the South; not because of differences of complexion, but because the whites persist in standing in the position of oppressors of the blacks. The same hostilities would be engendered, and the same dangers exist, if the population were all white or all black, and were divided only by caste, one superior and the other subordinate.

But there is another aspect to this case. It is possible to adopt such measures for the avoidance of strife and bloodshed between the two races at the South as will render the republic liable to the more serious danger of a fresh outburst of hostilities between the North and the South. There is no immediate danger on that score. And this temporary security does not grow out of a real reconciliation on the part of the Southern people with their Northern fellow-citizens. At bottom, the South feels as bitterly towards the North to-day as it did during the progress of the war. But the South is so completely exhausted and prostrate as to render a present renewal of the contest hopeless. Real and enduring pacification must be sought in giving time for resentments to die out, for reciprocal interests to spring up, and for concurrence of ideas to be formed. The processes requisite to this end are of slow formation; and will not be wrought out in a single generation. Now, does the plan of the President tend to this result? We think its tendency must, from the very nature of the case, be in exactly the opposite direction. Any scheme that aims at continuing a monopoly of the political power in the hands of the present dominant class, must inevitably be attended with inconveniences and perils, and, in the end, prove a failure. The surest method of preventing future trouble is to grant to all men just and equal rights, and then pledge the Government to maintain the boon unimpaired. By this method, strong bonds of amity, and mutual helpfulness will at once be created between the North and full one-half of the Southern people; and these bonds will increase in number, and multiply in power until they include the entire mass of both races. There is no doctrine so fruitful as that of Truth, and no discipline so auspicious as that of Justice.

LYCOMING COUNTY.—The Republicans have appointed Mr. HILL representative delegate to the State Convention. A resolution instructing for Mr. MOORHEAD was lost.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The Butler Citizen comes out for Mr. KETCHUM. It says:

"Looking at the great interests involved, both as to the success and stability of our party—which is the party of the Union—and as to the perpetuity of the Union itself, we feel constrained to lay aside all local feelings and interests, and give in our adhesion to the name which, from our stand point, seems to give the greatest assurance of safety and success. It is natural and frequently right that we should regard the claims of neighbors, or those whose location would seem to lay claims to sympathy. But, at present, duty requires that we should declare in favor of that name, which, while it is equal in other respects, has pre-eminent claims upon the confidence and support of the entire people of the Commonwealth. We refer to the name of Hon. W. W. Ketchum, of Luzerne."

The Monongahela Republican says:

"Among the several candidates prominent for Governor, urged by the Union party, we find the name of W. W. Ketchum, of Luzerne. We are glad to indorse Mr. Ketchum's claims, than whom, we can truthfully assert, no man has been more faithful to the interests of the State. He is one of those men who never approach the performance of their duty with hesitation. In all the bitter conflicts for the Union, when it became necessary, by legislative action and discussion, to encourage and increase our armies for the defense of the National Government, Senator Ketchum never failed in voice or vote for the right. He has been true to Pennsylvania and the Union. He has been the friend and advocate of the brave defenders of our national honor, and at no time did he fail in his duty in those respects. Therefore, we cannot refrain from writing and printing this paragraph, urging upon the members of the Union party of this district to go for Ketchum with a hearty good will."

The Bradford Argus says:

"Mr. Ketchum is better known to the people of this county than any of the other candidates named, having frequently visited here and became acquainted with our citizens. He is well known also through his public life and acts. As a member of both both branches of the Legislature he made a reputation for ability, honesty, and practical statesmanship that won for him here as elsewhere the admiration and good will of the people. We can only say of him now as we have heretofore said, that we regard him as one of the ablest and best men of the State. To show how he is regarded at home, it is only necessary to state that he carried at different times his county for the Legislature, when its ordinary Democratic majority is from fifteen to twenty-five hundred. An able an eloquent speaker, a public man whose whole record reflects credit upon him, he is just the man for our standard bearer in the coming campaign, and if nominated will carry the State by storm. He is a Republican whose standing in the party dates as far back as that of any man, and who has for years, living in a hopeless Democratic locality, borne the party banner almost alone, and done valiant service. Something is now due him, and having the necessary qualifications in an eminent degree we are for making him Governor."

The Hon. Frank Bound has been appointed Senatorial delegate from the fifteenth district, and Mr. J. J. John representative delegate from Northumberland county. They were not instructed and their preference is not indicated.

ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The democrats of New Hampshire held their State Convention at Concord on the 7th instant. Among the resolutions they adopted was this:

Resolved, That we pledge to Andrew Johnson, of the State of Tennessee, President of the United States, our support in the efforts which he is making to secure to all the States immediate representation in Congress and their full rights under the Constitution, as States of the Union, and that we will stand by him so long as he stands by the Constitution, and we invite all patriotic citizens to unite with us in the purpose.

The democratic State Convention for Connecticut assembled the same day, at Hartford. The following is one of their resolutions.

Resolved, By the Democracy of Connecticut, that the distinguished citizen now occupying the Presidential chair, by his earnest efforts for the restoration of the Union upon its proper basis; by his manly and statesmanlike position in opposition to negro suffrage; by his resistance to the insane and unwise efforts of a Congressional majority, who seek to destroy the Constitution of our Fathers by mischievous amendments—has deserved well of his country; and a courageous perseverance in the course so taken, will place the name of Andrew Johnson high upon the roll of renown, and second to none of the great statesmen who have illustrated the annals of the Union.

Can anybody doubt for what market the recent utterances of the President were designed.

SECOND EDITION OF THE REBELLION.

The aid and comfort furnished the ex-rebels by Northern "Conservatives" has emboldened the lately repentant traitors to throw off all disguises and resume their old habits of insolence. They are now threatening a second appeal to the bayonet. The Macon, Georgia, Telegraph thus admonishes the President:

"The ballot-box is too slow a process as a remedy for existing grievances. Let the President put down the rebellion in Congress and appeal to the ballot box to sustain that."

A writer in the Washington Constitutional Union, which until recently was publishing Government advertisements, if indeed it is not now, speaks as follows:

"I again repeat 'that I caution no violence,' nor do I wish to see the second advent of Cromwell, of England, or Napoleon, of France, practiced upon the radical destructionists in this Congress, but 'what has been may be, and will be again,' if President Johnson is thwarted in his great intentions. The President must be sustained!"

The Richmond Examiner comments in much the same vein, as follows:

"The Satanic puddler of the national foundry grins as he sees the sparks fly off from the mass of metal that he is manipulating with devilish glee in his fiery furnace. He knows that they will fall cold and lifeless, mere flakes of inert iron. But, Mr. Stevens, God helping us, we do not intend to pass through your rolling-mill; and the day may not be distant when the fires of your forge will be put out by a thunderbolt from the red right hand of Cæsar."

THE resolutions of the New Hampshire Democratic Convention are more explicit than usual, and disclose what is meant when a Democratic Convention "endorses the policy of the President." The New Hampshire Democrats simply pledge their support to the President "in the effort he is making to secure to all the States immediate representation in Congress." And that is all. That is the only point in the President's policy they care about; and they endorse that because, if that part of the policy succeeds, the votes of the Southern Democrats in Congress will suffice to defeat any other measure in the President's policy which they may not like. The admission of the Southern representatives to Congress, opens to them the hope of a return to power, and naturally enough they endorse that much of the President's policy, without going any further.

THE lower House of the Ohio Legislature has adopted, by a decisive vote, a resolution disapproving of the bill before Congress, to dispossess the negroes from the lands given them, on the Southern Coast, under Gen. SHERMAN's order. During the debate a letter was read from Secretary STANTON to DONN PIAT, disclaiming all connection with the original scheme of assigning these lands to the negroes, and giving to Gen. SHERMAN all the honor of it.

THE Philadelphia Press, in urging the nomination of a distinguished gentleman, says of him, "We feel well convinced that the Union State Convention can erect no platform upon which he would refuse to take his stand, should he be the nominee for Governor."

This equivocal compliment is due to the excessive zeal of the advocate, and not to the facile disposition of the gentleman commended.

WESTERN PHRASES.—The New England papers cite such phrases as "mighty weak" as being peculiarly Western, but they are not. A Massachusetts man once assured us that the Valley of the Shenandoah was "awful handsome."

A CORRESPONDENT, "FAIR PLAY," sends us a note complaining (and we think justly,) of the appearance in our local columns, some time since, of an article headed "Plain Talk—a Word to Councils." If we had seen that article in season it should not have appeared. As it was, we gave directions to our local reporter to avoid all such articles in future.

We have had, ourselves, some experience in Councils, and we know that the members of those bodies labor with earnestness and zeal to do their work well. They give their time and labor to the city without compensation, and they discharge their duties with an eye single to the interests of their constituents. They are deserving, therefore, of praise instead of blame; and although the article referred to was intended to be playful instead of censorious, there was enough of undeserved fault-finding in it to make its publication unjustifiable as it was in itself unfair. We thank our correspondent for giving us this opportunity to say so.

SPEAKING of the President's reply to Mr. FREDERICK DOUGLASS, the New York Commercial says:

"The whole speech shows that the President is governed by ideas gathered from slavery, and that he lacks real faith in human rights. He talks well of "democracy," but he has the convictions of an oligarch. We hope he may pass his Red Sea and reach the solid land beyond where he will be willing to concede the justice and the right of equality for all men."

ASSASSINATION IN TENNESSEE.—The Nashville Press says that in Pemberton county, Tennessee, quite a number of Union men have been assassinated by returned rebel soldiers, and as every civil officer in the county is a rebel, the murderers are not arrested. The Union men of the county, finding it unsafe to live there, are moving off northward.

OUR HARRISBURG LETTER.

Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, February 8, 1866.

You may recollect that some time ago Mr. Bigham stated that he intended to offer a resolution appointing a Committee to have a painting executed by a competent artist of one or more scenes which transpired during the battle of Gettysburgh. He has not yet offered his resolution, but upon the Governor's recommendation such a committee has been authorized in the House, and it is understood Kerns, of Philadelphia, Markley, of Montgomery, and Allen, of Warren, will be appointed from the lower branch.

Mr. Graham has read a bill in place incorporating the Pittsburgh Fruit House Association with C. L. Goehring, J. Knox, P. Reymer, Joshua Rhodes, G. P. McBride, G. Follansbee and Dr. J. P. Dake as incorporators. The capital is to be $150,000 and the corporation is to erect and maintain anywhere in Allegheny county, such buildings as may be necessary to preserve fruits, meats, butter, or any other article, and to fill such buildings with fruits "or such other things" to be kept and sold at any time when deemed advisable. The bill was reported favorably by the Committee this morning.

Mr Bigham has read a bill in place fixing the terms of the Courts of Common Pleas, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, Quarter Sessions and Orphans' Court in Allegheny county. It provides that they shall be held on the first Mondays of March, June, September and December of each year, and gives the Judges the power to summon a Grand Jury and convene a Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions at any time between the regular terms whenever it is necessary to dispose of the business. It also gives any one of the law Judges power to hold an Orphans Court; gives all the courts authority to establish and enforce such rules as they may deem necessary to compel the return of all attachments and other processes; requires the Mayors' and Aldermen of Pittsburgh and Allegheny city, and the Justices of the Peace on the first Monday of every month to return on oath to the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the peace, of all informations and recognizances made before them during the preceding month and ten days prior to the making of such return, and those informations and recognizances taken before them during the ten days immediately preceding the first Monday of any month shall be returned on the first Monday of the following month. The constables of the two cities, of the boroughs in the county, and of the townships of Peebles, Liberty, Pitt, Collins, Elizabeth, Union, Wilkins, McClure, Ross, Shaler, Reserve, Lower St. Clair and Versailles are to make a return in the manner provided by law on the same day of all persons selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, and of all persons violating the laws regulating the sale thereof.

Mr. [illegible], of your county, has read a bill in place, organizing a Company to construct a turnpike road from Pittsburgh to Library Postoffice. Isaac King, William Smith, Jacob Bays, Joseph Miller, James Higbee, Jesse McCully, and Watson Prevost, of Allegheny county, and Marion Findley, John Boyer and Richard Patterson, of Washington, are named as Commissioners to open subscription books and organize the Pittsburgh and Findleysville Turnpike Road Company, with power to build a road from your city by way of Wm. Smith's saw mill, and James Higbee's farm, to Library, with the privilege of extending it to Findleyville. The capital is to be $30,000 and the road must be commenced within two years and finished in five.

This morning Mr. Bigham read a bill which is of more than usual interest to your people. It proposes to give a new body corporate to be known as the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Spring Garden Passenger Railway Company, the right to lay a track (single or double) for a horse railroad over the following route: From the corner of Hand and Liberty streets, along Hand street, to the bridge; over the bridge to Anderson street, in Allegheny City; along Anderson to Cedar; along Cedar to either Avery or Second street; along either of those streets to Chestnut; along Chestnut to O'Hara; along O'Hara to the Spring Garden plank road, and along that road to the terminus, in Reserve township. H. Brady Wilkins, Chas. Ricketson, Joshua Rhodes, Chas. Batchelor, Thomas M. Marshall, John M. Tiernan, R. T. Leech, A. Reineman, G. Wettach, A. Weise, Joseph S. Brown and S. D. Kimberbank are named as incorporators, and the capital at $100,000. Among the provisions of the bill are—that they shall have power to borrow to the amount of one-half the capital; shall conform to the grades of streets, and keep the streets in repair, and before occupying shall receive the consent of the Councils of both cities. One section provides that whenever either or both the Allegheny and Pittsburgh Councils shall erect a free bridge over the Allegheny, from Irwin street to Sandusky street, in Allegheny, the Company is to have the right to subscribe a sum not exceeding one-half this capital, provided, however, that they are to have the exclusive right to use the bridge for passenger railway purposes. For the first five years the Company is to pay each year to the treasury of each city in proportion to the length of road in each, three per cent. on their dividend declared, and $20 for each car; for the second five years, five per cent. and $30; and thereafter, five per cent. and $40. The road is never to be used for freight or burden cars, or for locomotives, and the fare is not to exceed five cents.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

RAILROADS IN VIRGINIA.—We understand that seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the estimated cost of the Manassas Gap and Winchester and Potomac railroad connection, and that this sum is to be subscribed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. Of this amount, it is said, four hundred thousand will complete the proposed connection, leaving three hundred and fifty thousand dollars to be expended in rebuilding and refurnishing the Manassas Gap Railroad. We hope this may be true.—Alexandria (Va.) Gazette.

IF there be any man in the country who thoroughly knows the state of feeling in the South it is Gen. Howard, the head of the Freedmen's Bureau. In a recent lecture in Boston he expressed himself as follows:

"Although the South had been defeated in their opposition against liberty, they had not yet given it over, notwithstanding their asseverations to the contrary; they would not give it up till constrained to do so; even now they were doing all in their power to deny the freedmen their rights. He did not wish to prejudice any against the South, but the person who uses the dirk and the pistol against the negroes is a fair exponent of Southern feeling. The truth was, the greater part of the Southern people were sincere in the belief that emancipation was wrong."

We have daily increasing evidence of the deep seated treason and rebellious temper of the rebels of this State. Recent information received by the Governor, from Jackson Co., (Third Congressional District,) states that region, which, during the war, was a rendezvous for guerrillas, is, to all appearances, as disloyal and malignant as ever, and intelligent Unionists apprehend much mischief in the future. The rebels express their determination to take the offices out of the hands of Union men, and threaten to kill them if necessary, to get them out of the way. Socially, persons who have identified themselves with the Government are placed under ban, and shunned as lepers, whose touch would be defilement to a true secessionist.—Nashville Press.

THE Vicksburg correspondent of the Memphis Daily Post says:

"Just as fast as troops are removed from the State, the spirit of the people grows more and more amiable towards the Northern people and negroes. Some of our Northern business men are said to be growing timid, and there are reports of some of them intending to close out and leave."

Several houses were recently burned in Wilson county, Tennessee, by mobs, because their owners leased them to freedmen.

ISN'T it odd that the very fellows who told us ten thousand times during the war that the secessionists never could be subjugated and never would yield, are now the loudest of all others in pretending that they are perfectly submissive, peaceful, amicable, loyal and well-disposed?—Nashville Press.

DECLINE IN RENTS.—The Richmond (Va.) papers report a decline in rents in that city. On Monday one of the finest four-story business stands, on Carey street, which six months ago would have rented for $6,000 per year, was let to the highest bidder, by auction, at $1,200.

A PROMINENT Georgia Unionist, writing to Washington, says: "One thing is manifest—secession to-day, politically, is stronger than before the war, and Unionists more under the ban of the people."

DIRECT IMPORTATION.—A vessel from Rio has arrived at Savannah, Georgia, with 480,000 pounds of coffee, the first arrival of the kind since the war.

Some Particulars of the Loss of the Steamer W. R. Carter.

Two gentlemen, passengers on the steamer Luna, (which left New Orleans on the 30th of January,) reached this city yesterday, and we gather from them some particulars relating to the loss of the W. R. Carter, the wreck of which they passed a short time after the catastrophe.

The first indications that the passengers upon the Luna had of the disaster, were parts of the wreck and cargo floating past, about daylight, on Friday morning, a few miles above Vicksburg. The Luna continued to pass parts of the drifting wreck for about fifteen miles, when she was met by the Evening Star, which had overtaken the wreck, in time to pick up and save some twenty-five or twenty-six persons, found clinging to boards, cotton bales, swamped boats, and other drifting matter. Among the saved, and on board the Evening Star, were but five females, though it was reported there were many lady passengers on board the W. R. Carter when the disaster occurred.

From concurring accounts, given by the few passengers who escaped with their lives, the following facts are gathered. The W. R. Carter blew up about four o'clock Friday morning, February 2, about twenty-five miles above Vicksburg, and was in the middle of the river at the time, and running slowly. The noise attending the explosion was very slight, not sufficient even to awaken the passengers. The boat caught fire immediately. The first warning many had of the danger was the fire in their state-rooms. The boat did not sink for upward of one hour and a half after the explosion. The pilot who escaped says he and his brother were at the wheel at the time, and his brother exclaimed, "What is this?" He replied, "Don't know unless she is blowing up!" At that the floor raised comparatively slowly, and the next place he discovered himself was down among the boilers. He saved himself but his brother was lost.

A young man from Missouri was awakened by the fire, when he sprang up and climbed out of his stateroom through the flames, burning his hands very badly, and fell almost exhausted into the water, where he climbed upon a floating cotton bale and held fast nearly one hour, when he was picked up by the Evening Star.

A gentleman, said to be from Louisville, just married, was on the fated boat with his wife, and was awakened by fire in his stateroom, when he rushed forward to see what was the matter, and became separated from his wife by the flames, when he shouted to her to jump overboard, and sprang into the water himself but could not induce her to follow. He swam about the boat for some time, trying in vain to convince her of his ability to save her, when he swam ashore, and she perished in the flames. He threw away, it was said, $17,000 in gold.

A waiter (colored) forcibly dragged a lady from her state-room and threw her overboard, to save her from burning to death, and the poor lady was drowned. It seems that the women in general clustered upon deck and perished in the flames rather than risk the water, while the men perished in the water, vainly endeavoring to persuade the women to trust themselves to the river. One of the saved tells of seeing dozens of men in the water, clinging to each other, and drowning in the struggle. Another tells of seeing them become chilled and fall back helplessly in the river, meeting their fate.

To add to the terror of the scene were a number of horses and mules, which swam round and round the burning boat. As the Luna passed up, the poor animals could be seen struggling and shivering in the water, close to the bank, which they were unable to climb. Only one was to be seen that had gained a foothold on the shore. Every thing indicated a most frightful disaster. Most of the persons saved had nothing on but their night clothes, and suffered extremely.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Swindling Through the Postoffice.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

The Postoffice Department was compelled, one day last week, to send back fourteen hundred letters to a swindler in New Jersey. The letters were estimated to contain not less than $4,000, which had been drawn from foolish people in various parts of the country. Under a regulation of the Postoffice Department, whenever money is fraudulently obtained from people through the postoffice by rogues, who assume fictitious names, the letters are seized. The Mayors of New York and Brooklyn having complained to the department that a man in New Jersey was making use of the postoffice for swindling purposes, a detective was sent to the scene of operations, who seized those letters. They were forwarded here, and a number of them opened, and nearly every one contained from three to five dollars, and some a still larger amount. Upon examining into the facts it was found that the person to whom the letters were addressed was a real character, that he had not assumed a fictitious name, and that no law or regulation of the department would justify the detention of the letters. There was not the slightest doubt as to the fraud, yet under the law it was considered impossible to convict. The guilty person, when charged with fraud, claimed that at some time in the future he expected to fill the orders sent to him, and stated (which was true) that whoever answered his circulars with money took the risk; and that nobody could assert that he did not intend to forward the gifts promised. The department intends to call upon Congress for additional legislation to meet such cases of swindling.

Reconstruction.

The following is an extract from a private letter written by a gentleman in Georgia to a friend in this city. The writer has been a resident of Georgia for more than twenty-five years, and during the war was a loyal and Union loving citizen. His letter gives expression to a feeling that is too universal to be doubted. We quote:

February 1, 1866.—The future of this country (the South) it is hard to predict. The policy of the President in regard to wholesale pardon of rebels, with restoration of all civil and political rights, is certainly not productive of a sound and healthy loyal sentiment. The more they secure, the more they demand, and curse the hand that gives.

Union men are proscribed as much and more than before the war, and unless Congress, by some means or other, can make loyalty respectable in this section, Union men had better emigrate.

The steps of restoration so far have been all wrong, and they have surely tended to bring about the state of things existing at the South, as represented by every careful and honest observer. Last June the President had the whole question within his grasp. As Carl Schurz said in his report, the first proclamation of reconstruction broke the spell and restored the South to its old condition of arrogance.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Kidnapping Negroes.

On Friday we alluded to the statement made by a Macon correspondent, that negroes were being hired in the Gulf States under false pretenses, and then shipped off to Cuba and sold into slavery. A gentleman from Georgia, a thoroughly loyal man, assures us that not only is this the case, but the fact is well known to many who, dissatisfied with the loss of their slaves, wink at the atrocious crime. We have long been acquainted with our informant, and place implicit reliance upon his statements. He says that for many weeks parties from the North, as well as the South, have been engaged along the coast and inland rivers in employing blacks for the pretended purpose of laboring at a distance but really to be forced into Cuban bondage. This has been especially the case at St. Marks and at Mobile. Freedmen are engaged in the latter city and up the Alabama and Tombigby rivers, to work at New Orleans and elsewhere by base wretches, who, having secured and taken them down the bay in small vessels for their pretended destinations, then hurry them out to sea and thence to Cuba. The attention of the government authorities has been called to the matter, but they have thus far taken no steps towards arresting and punishing the offenders or otherwise putting a stop to the inhuman traffic.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Nothing but Justice.

The discharged soldiers of the Union army who have settled in the South, are to be allowed to keep the arms which the Government sold to them when their term of service expired. In this regard General Swayne has issued an order from Montgomery, in which he says:

"The [illegible] of insurrectionary violence is nonsense. The solemn pledge of the United States to the free people of color that they shall be and remain free, requires that the law, by whomsoever made and administered, and including these provisions, shall be faithfully and equally applied to all men, without distinction on account of color."

He therefore sends a garrison to Russell county, where the local authorities had seized arms belonging to freedmen.

By the tenth section of an act approved March 3, 1863, (12 Statutes at Large, p. 765,) it is enacted that every claim against the United States, cognizable by the Court of Claims, shall be forever barred unless the bill setting forth a full statement of the claim be filed in the court, or transmitted to it, within six years after the claim first accrues, provided that claims accrued six years before the passage of the act shall not be barred if presented within three years after the passage of the act.

Thus all claims against the United States cognizable by the Court of Claims, and of more than six years' standing, will be barred after the 3d of March 1866.—Nat. Intell.

CHARLES J. FAULKNER, whose rebellious antecedents are well known, recently asserted the right to practice as a lawyer in West Virginia without taking the test oath. The Supreme Court of the State, however, decided [illegible] to his claims.

GENERAL NEWS.

CATHOLIC CHURCH PROPERTY CONFISCATED IN POLAND.—The Russian Government has confiscated the entire property of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland. By virtue of an imperial ukase, dated December 26, 1865, and promulgated January 10th, the landed estates and houses, as well as the ready capital, stocks, claims, and all other belongings of the national ecclesiastical establishment of Poland, have been seized and appropriated by the Czar. The funds and other capital thus appropriated before the last rebellion amounted to 2,573,613 roubles; the value of the land, &c., may be estimated at about six times that much. To make up for this sequestion on a grand scale, the government who, as an indemnity for former appropriations of the same kind, previously contributed about a third of the church expenditure, now undertakes to provide the whole salary of the priests, as well as sundry other items of the current ecclesiastical costs.

ENGLISH GIRLS AND PHYSICAL EXERCISE.—The English girl spends more than one-half her waking hours in physical amusement, which tends to develope and invigorate and ripen the bodily powers. She rides, walks, drives, rows upon the water, dances, plays, sings, jumps the rope, throws the ball, hurls the quoits, draws the bow, keeps up the shuttlecock—and all this without having it pressed upon her mind that she is wasting her time. She does this every day until it becomes a habit she will follow through life. Her frame as a natural consequence, is larger; her muscular system better developed; her nervous system in better subordination; her strength more enduring; and the whole tone of her mind healthier.

LABOR is low, capital is scarce, and interest is high, in every country on the globe which exports raw products. Turkey, Mexico, Russia, Ireland, Canada, and South America are solemn witnesses to the truth of this law of Economy. It is an inexorable law, without variableness or shadow of turning. In all those countries which consume their new products, land and labor rise in price, capital becomes plenty, and interest steadily falls. This, too, is one of God's unchangeable laws. Massachusetts and Connecticut, Belgium, France and Germany, joyfully witness to its truth and beneficence.—N. Y. Tribune.

IN 1855, a Mr. Garnet, living near Auburn, New York, was sent to State prison for forgery. He served out his time, and when he came out his wife, deeming him guilty, refused to receive him. He went to Pennsylvania and married a young wife. A few weeks ago a man, on his death bed, confessed to the crime for which Garnet suffered. The first wife, repenting her conduct, hunted him up, confessed her cruelty, a reconciliation was effected, and the second wife voluntarily gave up her claim. The first wife now lives with her husband, and the second is liberally endowed.

WE require foreigners who leave their houses and come to this country, because it offers them the rights of freemen—men who love republican institutions,—to wait five years before they can vote; should traitors, who have done their utmost to overthrow republican institutions, and who have disfranchised themselves because they hate us, be admitted upon shorter probation? If the man who loves the country must wait five years for a vote, how long should he wait who hates the country.—Illinois Journal.

A MONKISH rebellion on Mount Sinai is reported in a letter in the Levant Herald. It appears that Archbishop Cyril, of the Convent of St. Catherine, having in some way offended his monks, they mutinied in a body, seized the Archbishop and shut him up in the black hole in the convent. News of the affair was sent by an adherent of the Archbishop to Cairo, whereupon the Viceroy despatched a company of troops to release the prelate and to restore his authority.—Foreign Paper.

A NEWARK (O.) correspondent of the Cleveland Herald says that on Saturday all the distilleries in Huron county except one were closed by the Government, for alleged violations of the revenue law. The inspector had previously been placed under arrest, under the charge of sanctioning the violation. It is understood that a further hearing will be had before the U. S. Commissioner at Cleveland, some time this week.

THE St. Louis Republican has been shown a private letter, which, under date of the 30th ult., states, that at a party, at the town of Avoca, five miles from Russellville, Alabama, thirteen persons, out of a party of thirty, were fatally poisoned by drinking whisky which, it is supposed, had been drugged. Three of the musicians, who had drank very freely, died before day. The other victims lingered longer.

THE New York Evangelist says that Father Agapius, the Greek Church priest who made such a sensation in New York a few months since by officiating in an Episcopal Church there, has been turned out of his church by his ecclesiastical superiors, for countenancing a church outside of the Apostolic succession, and the father, disgusted, has made an application to be received into the Presbyterian church.

STATIONARY GENERATIONS.—The man who conveyed in his cart the body of William Rufus from the New Forest, A. D. 1100, is the ancester of a very numerous tribe. Of his lineal descendants it is reported that, living on the same spot, they have constantly been proprietors of a horse and cart, but have never attained to the possession of a team.—Pict. Hist. of England.

A BRUTAL murder was committed on Tuesday evening at a place called Joe Wilson's Tavern, about two miles out of Utica. The murdered man's name was Campbell. He was about thirty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and child four years of age. The murder is supposed to have been committed by five young men, all of whom are under arrest in the Utica jail.

A CATTLE-DEALER who, before the orders forbidding the importation of foreign cattle to the United States, had sent a number of cattle to Canada to be fattened, asked the Secretary of the Treasury to allow them to return. The Secretary states that on account of the existing regulations, his request cannot be granted.

IN a joint meeting of the two branches of the New Jersey Legislature, on Wednesday, a State Treasurer, keeper of the State Prison, two State Railroad Directors, and five Inspectors—all Union men—were duly elected.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ AYER'S AGUE CURE, for the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

Fever and Ague is not the only consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all alike. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and its importance to those afflicted with the complaint cannot be over estimated. So sure is it to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be truthfully said to be a certain remedy. One Dealer complains that it is not a good medicine to sell because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood.

THE DRESSING AND RESTORER OF THE AGE!
TURKISH BANDOLENIAN.

BETROUVEY'S TURKISH BANDOLENIAN. What can be more acceptable than anything that will beautify? that will restore nature's decay by stopping the hair from falling out, restoring its natural color, making it to grow in luxuriance and beauty, assist in putting it up according to the present style and fashion and keep it in place? This Betrouvey's Turkish Bandolenian Hair Tonic will do, and for proof we refer you to any person who has tried it. It is acknowledged to be the beautifier of the age, the only Hair Tonic and Restorer worthy of the name. In Turkey, in France, in England, in America—everywhere where the "Bandolenian" is known—it is pronounced the ne plus ultra of Hair Preparations. Remember, it is free from all metallic poisons that are contained in most Hair Colors and dressings. It is the extract of many flowers and herbs, beautifully put up, an ornament to the toilet.

GREENBACKS

ARE GOOD.!

BUT

ROBACK'S BITTERS

ARE BETTER.

Roback's Stomach Bitters

After years of experience and trial, have proven to be the best remedy extant for all complaints where a tonic and stimulant are required. They never fail to strengthen the weak, impart vigor to the strong and in all respects restore shattered and broken-down constitutions. No remedy has been received with as much favor as ROBACK'S STOMACH BITTERS.

GREENBACKS

ARE GOOD,

BUT

It is admitted by our most learned physicians that DR. ROBACK'S BITTERS combine the properties of a gentle laxative, an efficient anti-bilious agent, and the best stomachic known to the world.

ROBACK'S

BITTERS should be used by convalescents to strengthen the prostration which always follows acute disease.

In the bilious districts of the West and South there has for a long time, been much needed, an article of Stomach Bitters, which, if taken in proper quantities and at the proper time, are a sure preventive of

Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Jaundice, Kidney Complaints, and all Diseases of a similar nature, and a preventive for bilious derangement, regulating the system, and giving tone to the digestive organs, than any other known remedy.

Now that the war is over, there will be thousands seeking homes in the South. No person who values his life should go there without having constantly on hand the BITTERS, as a safeguard against epidemics and maladies engendered by miasma and polluted water.

Travelers to and all residents of, the rank bottoms of the west and south, and the valleys of the Mississippi and its tributaries, should provide themselves with BITTERS.

DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK, No. 59
FOURTH STREET.
CHARTERED IN 1855.

Open daily from 9 to 2 o'clock, also on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, from May 1st to November 1st, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and from November 1st to May 1st, from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Deposits received of all sums of not less than One Dollar, and a dividend of the profits declared twice a year, in June and December. Interest has been declared semi-annually in June and December since the Bank was organized, at the rate of six per cent. a year.

Interest, if not drawn out, is placed to the credit of the depositor as principal, and bears the same interest from the first days of June and December, compounding twice a year without troubling the depositor to call, or even to present his pass book. At this rate money will double in less than twelve years.

Books containing the Charter, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations, furnished gratis, on application at the office.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Book Notices.

"THE PHYSIOLOGY OF MAN; Designed to represent the Existing State of Physiological Science as Applied in the Functions of the Human Body. By Austin Flint, Jr., M. D. New York: D. Appleton & Co."

This is a purely scientific work, and is intended only for those who make Physiology a study. Upon that one subject it is intended to be exhaustive, and we have no doubt it will be found by students of that branch of Science, an encyclopedia of all that is now known upon the subject of which it treats. The author has labored with great diligence and ability to bring the whole matter to the comprehension of the reader, and we think successfully.

He states in his preface that this volume is an attempt to introduce into this country a plan much in vogue in France, to issue a work on Physiology, in four volumes, each volume being a distinct treatise, devoted to natural sub-divisions of the subject. The present volume treats of the Blood, Circulation and Respiration, and upon that branch of physiological science the volume is complete in itself.

For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., Wood street.

"BALLADS AND TRANSLATIONS." By Constantina E. Brooks. New York, D. Appleton & Co.

More verses and more—trash, the expectant reader will say, but we advise him not to rush to that conclusion too soon. We do not think the authoress will take rank with Shakspeare, but her ballads are good, and readers of poetry—or verse—will like them. We are a little heretical ourselves on the subject of poetry; but we can remember the time when we would have devoured this book with eagerness. There may be some such ardent young people yet. Who knows? For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co.

THE MEDITERRANEAN ISLANDS. Sketches and Stories of their Scenery, Customs, History, &c. By N. G. Sleeper. Illustrated Boston Gould & Lincoln.

The present volume, the author tells us, is the first of a series describing those parts of the old world least known to young American readers. The scenes will be called "Fonthill recreations," and the information is conveyed in the form of easy conversations between a travelled uncle who lives at FONTHILL, his pleasant country seat, and a group of lively nephews and nieces. The series will embrace the Mediterranean Islands, the two Sicilies, Holland and Belgium, Normandy, Brittany, Portugal, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Germany, Poland, Northern Italy, Hungary, &c. The young folks will find it a very entertaining instructive series.

"MIND IN NATURE; or the origin of life and the mode of development of animals. By Henry J. Clarke, Professor of Zoology in Harvard University. Illustrated. New York: D. Appleton & Co."

The main title to this book seems to us but poorly chosen, inasmuch as the reader will read it through without once finding the subject of Mind and Nature discussed, except incidentally. It discusses solely the origin of life and the mode of development of animals, and the discussion is very ably carried on. The volume is made up of public lectures on these subjects delivered by the author in New England a year or two since; and they are now combined in a more permanent form. The whole subject of the origin of life and animal development is treated scientifically and philosophically, and with admirable clearness of detail. Whether those who follow this speciality in study will agree with him in all his conclusions we cannot undertake to say; but they will all find his book readable.

"ELEMENTS OF INTELLECTUAL PHILOSOPHY. By Rev. Jos. Alden, D. D. New York: D. Appleton & Co.

The author of this excellent little work was formerly President of Jefferson College, and like all men engaged in teaching, finds deficiencies in existing elementary works which cannot be cured without a new one. "The object of this book," he says, "is not to teach a system of philosophy, but to aid the student in studying subjects which are adapted to promote fixedness of attention and discrimination of thought, and which underlie all thinking pertaining to human action and progress. The general plan is indicated by the following questions: What can the mind do? How does it do it?"

It is an elementary book, but not a mere text-book. Young students can use it to advantage; who may not be favored with a teacher. It has freshness and vitality, and is not, therefore, repulsive to the young mind by its dryness of detail. The good Doctor, its author, does not belong to the Dryasdust family, and his book, therefore, may be used as a companion out of the school-room as well as a text-book within it.

A Clergyman's Opinion.

The following interesting note, from the pen of Rev. Richard Lea, cannot but prove acceptable to all those who have the proper musical education of their families at heart. Mr. Lea is, perhaps, the oldest Presbyterian minister in this section of country, he having founded the Presbyterian Church at Lawrenceville, and preached therein with hardly a single Sabbath's omission for a period of over thirty years. The opinion of such a man is certainly worth its weight in gold. But to the letter:

MESSRS. EDITORS: Four of my parishoners, with myself, being musically inclined, purchased during the holidays five Steinway Pianos, from Messrs. Kleber & Bro. We are all delighted with the tone, finish and terms, and wish such pleasures were greatly multiplied in our attractive borough. R. LEA.

Lawrenceville, Jan. 15, 1866.

Missionary Anniversary.

The Missionary Anniversary of the Liberty Street, M. E. Church, Rev. W. A. Davidson, pastor, which takes place to-morrow, promises to be an interesting occasion, judging from the extensive arrangements made. Rev. Dr. Trimble, Assistant Corresponding Secretary of the Parent Missionary Society, will preach in the morning. In the afternoon the Sunday School exercises will take place, at which Dr. Trimble will speak. The singing of the children will add much to the interest of the occasion. Dr. Trimble will preach again, or at least suitable services will be held. Persons interested in this noble cause will do well to attend.

City Tax on Real Estate.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Some time since I noticed a local article in your valuable paper, in which it was stated that the City Councils had increased the levy upon real estate four mills, thereby increasing the city revenue one hundred thousand dollars! An increase of four mills of taxation upon real estate, will net just about forty thousand dollars. Of course the writer of the article referred to, believed what he wrote, but I trust, hereafter, facts may be stated whenever any one undertakes to write upon such solemn matters as taxation. REAL ESTATE TAX PAYER.

Fatal Accident.—Reuben Andy, a returned soldier, was killed at Weatherly, Pa., on Thursday, the 18th inst., by being caught between an engine in motion and the door frame of the engine house. He was serving as a brakeman on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at the time of his death, and had served as a soldier in the Union army three-and-a-half years.

Frozen to Death.—Mrs. Kennedy and child, perished in the snow storm on Monday night of last week, near their residence at Bucs Mountain, Luzerne county. The mother, with her youngest child, nine months old, went out that evening to call upon a neighbor, but she lost her way, and becoming blinded with the snow drift, perished in it.

The Lawrenceville Arson Case.

Charles Clifford, the alleged incendiary of the Citizens' Passenger Railway stables, was taken to the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, and his examination continued. The Commonwealth was represented by John M. Riddle, Esq., Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, J. Gratton Murphy, Esq., Fire Marshal for this district, being also in attendance. Very little additional information was elicited, and nothing that would fix the guilt positively was made manifest. The prisoner was not represented by counsel, but asked questions for himself.

The first witness called was Mr. Fisher, the watchman at the stables. He testified briefly that on the night of the fire he saw the prisoner at the stable, in one of the cars which was housed.

Mr. Dunwell testified to the discovery of the fire, and the hour, and gave a description of the position and location of the buildings.

Michael Faas, on being sworn by Mr. Murphy, stated that he lived opposite the station with his mother, who keeps a boarding house. Clifford boards there. I was at home the night of the fire, and went to bed at from fifteen to twenty-five minutes before twelve o'clock. Clifford started to bed before I did. I saw him starting up stairs. He could not have come down again without me seeing him. I awoke at the time the alarm of fire was given. The first I saw of Clifford he was carrying water. I was on the roof of our house when I first saw him. He and I had been drinking ale before we went to bed. Had drank considerable. During the fire, he carried as much water as any one. After the fire was out, he and I took a drink; I did not hear him say anything in regard to the fire. I think he went up stairs about five minutes before I did. He had been out of doors more than an hour before; I think about nine or half-past nine o'clock. He was not out of the house again after he came in that time, I am certain. He could not have got out without my hearing him; I was attending a sick man, and I would have heard any one come down, even in their stocking feet. The stairs creak very much, and I could have heard their bare feet. Clifford told me that the situation he had with the Company did not pay enough wages, and he said that when he could get a little money ahead he would leave their employ. He was always well pleased with what he got at our house, and never grumbled if he had to take a cold lunch; or if he had to lose a meal he never said anything about it when he came to pay his bill.

In answer to a question from Clifford he replied: "I never heard you make any threats against the company for having been discharged.

Frederick Fate sworn by Mr. Murphy testified that he boarded at Mrs. Faas' boarding house in Lawrenceville, and slept there the night of the fire. The driver of car No. 11 was in the habit of sleeping with me. The prisoner is the man. He did not sleep with me that night. I went to bed at half-past eight and got up at the time of the alarm of fire. I was the first one up in the room. There were two other persons in the room. Clifford did not sleep there with me that night. I knew as a general thing when he came to bed or got up. I did not have a conversation with him that night or the next day about the fire, nor did I hear him conversing in regard to the matter with any one else. I saw him the night of the fire in the yard by the stable. He was taking out horses. I cannot say how long I have known the prisoner, but it has been ever since he has boarded where I now board.

In reply to a question from Clifford, he answered that he could not say that he (Clifford) ever got into or out of the bed without his knowledge.

Robert Hague testified that he had a conversation with the prisoner after the arrest was made, and the man lodged in the watchhouse, and that the prisoner had told him that he was not in bed at the time the fire alarm was given, but that he would not answer any more questions until he had got counsel.

Officer Moon, being called by the prisoner testified, "Fisher told me that he saw you in the last car that went out. That he held the light up to your face, and saw you distinctly. He also said you looked as though you were scared.

There being no more witnesses to examine, Mr. Riddle remarked that although the testimony was insufficient to ask for a final committal to answer the charge, still he thought there was enough in the case to warrant him in asking for a commitment for further hearing. Mayor McCarthy then committed the prisoner to jail until next Tuesday at two o'clock, at which time it is thought that more evidence will be obtained.

Execution of Dr. John W. Hughes.

Yesterday afternoon, at seven minutes past one o'clock, the severest penalty of the law was inflicted on Dr. John W. Hughes, for the murder of Miss Tamson Parsons, at Cleveland. The facts of the case are well-remembered by our citizens. He was a married man, having a wife living, we think, in Cleveland. During the spring of 1865 he became acquainted with Miss Parsons, at her home, in Bedford, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, and induced her to elope with him. They came to Pittsburgh and were married. A day or two after the ceremony had been performed, a relation of the lady's arrived in this city, and conveyed to her the astounding intelligence that the Doctor already had a wife living. Heartbroken, she returned to her home, and Hughes was arrested, tried for bigamy, was found guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, and undergo a year's imprisonment in the Penitentiary. A mistaken clemency soon set him at liberty, and he went to Cleveland, where he was joined by his legal wife, with whom, however, he lived but a short time when he sent her home to her friends, in the Isle of Man. He then again began to urge his attentions on Miss Parsons, and although persistent in his endeavors to see her, she steadily refused to grant him an interview and eventually left her home, in order that she might avoid him. He followed her, met her in the garden of the relation she was stopping with, and deliberately shot her dead. He was arrested, and tried at the December term of the Court of Common Pleas, in Cleveland, convicted of murder in the first degree, and yesterday gave up his life as an atonement for his crime.

The last hours of the doomed man were indeed wretched. A great portion of his time was spent in religious devotions, and in addressing his fellow prisoners from the door of his cell, a few days since, he attempted self-destruction by taking morphine, but his designs were discovered in time to be frustrated. The jail physician administered a counteracting drug, and he soon recovered. During his last few days on earth, and even up to the time that he appeared upon the scaffold, he had the almost constant attention of his spiritual adviser, Prof. Thome, and upon the scaffold he not only desired a petition to the Throne of Grace, but prayed earnestly himself. He spoke at some length upon the injustice of capital punishment, and gave as his opinion that the proper method was to work a reformation by imprisonment.

The crowd about the prison was very large, and was composed of both sexes, but everything was conducted in the most quiet and orderly manner. Sheriff Nicola notified the wretched man at fifteen minutes of one o'clock that his time had come, and the mournful procession took their way to the scaffold. Hughes' confidence was now entirely gone, and he appeared to be entirely unnerved. He addressed the audience in regard to the justice of his punishment, and concluded by bidding them all farewell. His feet were bound—his arms having been pinioned before leaving the prison—the white cap was drawn over his face, and at seven minutes past one the soul of John W. Hughes, the libertine and murderer, was launched into eternity. He died with scarcely a struggle, his neck having probably been broken. Justice has once more vindicated the majesty of the law, and given law breakers to understand that swift and terrible retribution will follow the commission of crime. We have always doubted the moral effect of capital punishment, but it would appear as though the demand of a life for a life was the only means of checking the perfect torrent of villainy that is at present sweeping over the country.

"Judas Maccabeus"

This Grand Oratorio of Handel which is to be brought out on Thursday evening next, at Masonic Hall seems to be exciting a good deal of inquiry among those interested in musical matters. Having never been performed west of the mountains, and very rarely in the East, very few copies of it are to be found, so that even among our Amateurs in Music, very little is known of it. It is ranked among the best oratorios of the great composer. Taken from the history of the Maccabees in the Apochrypha as its basis, the author has shown his genius in so combining and arranging such of the facts as suited his purpose as to make a drama of surpassing interest. The whole composition is essentially martial. The father of the hero "Judas," had been the idol of the Jewish people. He had succeeded in rousing them to resist the attempts of the King of Syria to overwhelm them by his cruelties and oppressions and to destroy at once their religion and their liberty. In losing him they felt that unless God interfered in their behalf they were indeed undone. It is with lamentations and strains of the deepest sadness that the drama opens, then their appeal to God for help—their recognition of Judas as their leader, his stirring appeals to them to unite with him in resisting the oppression, their determination to fight, their sublime trust in God, and the celebration of the victories gained over their enemies—all afford opportunity for every variety of style, and these the author has turned to admirable account. The triumph of genius, in so making the music tell the whole story as to be able to dispense with everything like scenery or stage trickery, renders these oratorios worthy the attention of all intelligent people. Some of them, however, apparently require such a thorough acquaintance with music as few can be expected to have. In this respect, "Judas Maccabeus" will be found more capable of popular comprehension, and interest to those not specially educated in this direction. We hear some of the performers spoken of as likely to render their parts very creditably. Being Pittsburghers, and the Freedman's cause being one near the hearts of many of the people, we trust that the first public appearance of this Society will be an entire success. With such a programme as Handel's "Judas Maccabeus" affords for such a cause as that of the Freedmen—the long down-trodden ones—the ones who, amid all this ignorance and degredation, were still wise enough to invariably choose the side of right and loyalty and to put their trust in God, there ought to be a grand turnout. In this we shall encourage these native amateur artists, and at the same time do good to a worthy cause.

We repeat the notice that reserved seats can be procured at Kleber's Music store, without extra charge by those having tickets, on Tuesday morning, at ten o'clock. The Concert will be on Thursday evening, 15th inst.

Skiff and Gaylord's Minstrels.

Another crowded house of our best citizens assembled last evening to witness the second representation of this most excellent troupe of minstrels. The musical abilities of this troupe are of the very highest order, while the commedians, dancers and eccentric performers are incomparable and unapproachable. Not the least and most interesting feature of the entertainment is their beautiful and truthful panorama of Sherman's March through Georgia, interspersed with appropriate and most beautiful music. This is their last night, and to secure a good seat we advise an early tea and quick passage.

Amusements.

THEATER.—The Theater was well patronized last night upon the occasion of Miss Sophia Gimber's benefit, to witness the beautiful play of Arrah Na Pogue. That it should have such extraordinary runs as it does is not surprising when we take into consideration the splendid array of incidents connected with the piece. "The wearing of the Green," as sung by Mr. McDonough, is very fine. To-night is the last of Miss Gimber's engagement, and as Arrah will again appear who can doubt but that she will be welcomed by the smiles of a brilliant audience.

OPERA HOUSE.—If any one doubts the fact that we are becoming an amusement loving people, let him but visit one of the places of amusement upon any night. The Opera House still keeps up its attractions, and still is filled with fashionable audiences. Miss Hosmer came among us with a brilliant reputation, which she has fully sustained, as any one will testify who has seen her in her particular roles. To-night the great sensation play of the Queen, the Mechanic and the Jew, and as it is the last night of the lady's engagement, we expect to see the house crowded.

Assault and Battery.—John McIntyre yesterday preferred a charge before Alderman Strain against Bernard Dougherty, one of the police officers in charge at the Union Depot, for assault and battery. It appears that McIntyre, failing to agree with his wife, obtained a divorce. She obtained employment at the Union Station, in the ladies' waiting room. McIntyre wanted to see her, but she didn't want to see him, and called Officer Dougherty to her aid. Dougherty ejected McIntyre from the premises, and out of this the suit arose. The officer gave bail for a hearing on next Monday.

Central Skating Park.—There was a good attendance at the Park yesterday and the ice was in fine condition. As the Citizens Passenger Railway Company are not able to furnish accommodations sufficient owing to the burning of their property, the Skating Company have arranged for a line of Omnibusus to run to-morrow from the St. Clair Hotel until the closing of the Park. This will be the last opportunity but one, and it may be the last to witness the beautiful skating of Miss Carrie A. Moore. Should the weather become milder between this and Monday, of course she cannot appear on that day.

The "Vigy's" Ball.—Our friends connected with that excellent company, the Vigilant Fire Company, of this city, are completing arrangements to give one of the very finest balls ever gotten up in this city. It is determined to make it perfectly unexceptionable in every particular, and do them great credit. It should be borne in mind that this is one of the modes which are in vogue with the firemen to raise means for keeping up their department, as the appropriations made by the city would fall far short, as a reference to their books will show.

Union Park.—We are informed that the Union Park Company have cleaned off the entire surface of their ice, and let a coat of water in over it, so that should the weather be favorable there will be skating there to-day. Parties who will take the trouble to apply at the office of the Manchester passenger railway can always be informed as to the condition of the ice, but those who will go it blind, must expect to suffer an occasional disappointment.

Meagher Brothers.—We are desired to announce the fact that arrangements have positively been concluded with the Meagher brothers, by the managers of the Central Park, and they will certainly be here on Monday. Their reasons for breaking their engagement before was because they had heard there was no ice here, and they concluded to go to Detroit until there was ice. Should the weather prove favorable they will appear on Tuesday.

Alf. Burnett is Coming.—Alf. Burnett, the humorist, is coming and will on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week give a specimen of his inimitable lectures at Masonic Hall. He will tell you his subject when you see him. Maybe it is "the Wearing of the Green."

Committed.—John M. Beck, whose arrest we noticed in yesterday's evening edition for having stolen a chair from Splane's cabinet wareroom, was committed to jail yesterday evening in default of $300 bail.

Wife Desertion.—Thomas Gothard was arrested yesterday and taken before Alderman Kelly on a charge of desertion, preferred against him by his wife. He will have a hearing to-day.

FROM YESTERDAY EVENING'S GAZETTE

Actions for Damages.

Judge Hampton, of the District Court, has been engaged for two days past in the trial of the case of Mrs. Matilda E. Whitney vs. Franklin Souders and Mears & Pillows, being an action for damages sustained by the plaintiff to her dwelling-house, located on Congress street, in the Sixth ward. The testimony went to show that the defendants, who owned a lot adjoining the ground on which Mrs. Whitney's house stands, had used it in such a manner that the water was drained against the wall of the plaintiff's house, which in course of time damaged it considerably, rendering the house uncomfortable, and causing her to make repairs, etc. It also appeared that the defendants had been frequently notified of the injury they were inflicting upon her property, but they took no measures to correct the wrong. After the testimony had been heard, Judge Hampton delivered an able and interesting charge to the jury, in reference to the rights of property owners, and the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $380—$280 of which was against Souders, and $100 against Mears & Pillow.

The next case taken up was that of Horatio N. Hoyt and Rebecca, his wife, vs. John M. Harnish and Elizabeth, his wife—being an action for slander. The slander consisted in the defendant's wife alleging "that Rebecca Hoyt was sociable with other women's men, and that she had been driven off from Lewistown on that account." The damages were fixed at $4,000, but money did not seem to be an object in the prosecution, the plaintiffs wishing to have their character vindicated from the unwarranted aspersions cast upon them. The Judge remarked that a simple verdict with nominal damages, was as complete a vindication as could be obtained, and the jury found for the plaintiffs in the usual form of "six cents damages and six cents costs."

The Wooden Building Ordinance in Allegheny.

It was generally supposed that some definite action would be taken at the meeting of the Allegheny Councils, held last evening, in reference to the proposed repeal of the ordinance prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings. A repealing ordinance was offered in the Select branch by Capt. Drum, but referred to the Committee on Wooden Buildings. We understand that the friends of the measure have been "counting noses," and that there is not much prospect of their succeeding in having the ordinance repealed. The fact that houses are extremely scarce, rents exorbitantly high and the cost of building utterly beyond the means of the working classes (who are really the greatest sufferers,) would seem to afford strong reasons for urging the repeal, or at least modifying the provisions of the law so that frame dwellings might be erected on the outskirts of the city. But there are weighty reasons why the ordinance should not be disturbed, and hence the question is one which requires the careful consideration of the members of Councils. The Committee having the matter in charge will doubtless give it due deliberation, and suggest such action as will meet the views of the majority.

The "Regular" Rowdies.

Some three months ago, or perhaps less, a detachment of recruits for the regular army arrived at this city from New York, on their way to Jefferson Barracks, and being variously composed of the rougher material from New York, they threw off all restraint here and held the city in terror for about twenty-four hours. A large number of them was arrested, but only three were held for trial, and these would perhaps have gone to the Penitentiary for riot had it not been for the fact that they wore Uncle Sam's blue. They were sentenced to sixty days in the county jail, for assault and battery, and their term of imprisonment expired to-day. Warden White notified the United States recruiting officer of the fact that he was about to discharge the men, and arrangements will be made to take them in custody and forward them to Jefferson Barracks. Their names are James Burke, Michael Kildea and William Delaney. We hope, for the sake of the peace and safety of our citizens, that they will not be turned loose here.

Committed Suicide.

Mr. William Snyder, of White township, Indiana county, committed suicide on Sabbath last, by hanging. It appears that he arose on the morning of the day above mentioned, in his usual health, but appeared to be somewhat dispirited. Toward noon he started to the barn, remarking that he was going to feed the cattle. Sometime afterward his son went to the stable to put in a horse, and on entering the stable he was met by the terrible spectacle of his father suspended between heaven and earth, quite dead. He had fastened the rope to the rafters above, then securing it about his neck, jumped off the trough, breaking his neck and killing him instantly. It is supposed, says the Indiana Messenger, that fear of coming to want prompted him to commit the rash deed. He was in good circumstances, was an industrious frugal man, but the thoughts that he would sometime be reduced to poverty so preyed upon his mind that his reason became affected.

A Boisterous Honeymoon.

Mrs. Fanny Howell appeared before Mayor McCarthy yesterday and preferred a charge of disorderly conduct against her husband, Frederick Howell. It appears that the parties had been married but a fortnight ago, and the honeymoon has been one of the most boisterous character, Frederick frequently indulging in the innocent pastime of flogging Fanny. He was fined ten dollars and costs, which he paid. Before he had got fairly out of the clutches of the law, he began to threaten Fanny with violence, and she began to fear the consequences. She accordingly preferred a charge of surety of the peace against him, and he was required to find bail or go to jail.

Novel Description of a Snow-Balling Match.

A correspondent residing in Manchester, has been trying his hand at "writing for the paper." The subject which he has chosen is a snow-balling match, which he appears to have written, and which he paints in the following graphic manner:

Two men riding past the Manchester Post-Office were set upon by two idlers firing a few voleys of white caniser and Grape when they dismounted and charged fiercely when an engagement ensued resulting in the mixing of the red and white and causing the blue to appear also to the disadvantage of both partys.

Surety of the Peace.—Frederick Howell was before Mayor McCarthy yesterday on two charges, one for disorderly conduct, for which he was fined ten dollars, and another for surety of the peace, on oath of his wife, Fanny. On this latter charge he was committed to jail, but his wife afterwards came down and withdrew the charge, and the case was settled and he was released.

Charges of vagrancy were also preferred against R. Wells, Wm. Marshall, Jos. Thomas and H. Johnson, all colored, but they were all discharged on promising to leave the city and not return.

Washington Birthday Ball.—We learn from Capt. David Hall, of the Stewart Hook and Ladder Company, that it is the intention of the company to give a ball on Washington's Birthday, the proceeds of which will be devoted to paying arrearages in their splendid outfit. The ball will be given in Wilkins' Hall, and the managers intend to make it a place where all can attend. The company went to a pretty heavy expense in getting up their apparatus, and we think that a liberal public should see that they are provided with the means to pay for it. The Committee of Arrangements are Capt. August Steimmyer, jr., Wm. McGuire, F. J. Busha and D. E. Hall.

Stole a Chair.—A man by the name of John M. Beck was arrested this afternoon on the charge of having stolen a Boston Rocking chair, valued at six dollars and fifty cents, from Mr. Splane's cabinet wareroom, corner of Diamond and Smithfield streets. A boy in Mr. Splane's employ arrested him in the act, and took the chair from him, but afterwards pointed Beck out to officer Scott, who took him into custody. He was allowed until this evening to obtain bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court.

Gold is reported at 140⅛ in New York, which is a slight advance as compared with yesterday. Governments firm, but without particular change—New York quotations at noon were as follows: 1881's, 103¼; Five Twenties, 102¾; Ten Forties, 94; Seven Thirties, 99; Certificates, 98¾.

In our market dullness and stagnation continue to reign supreme. Bank shares are in fair demand, but almost all other local stocks are dull and utterly neglected. Oil shares appear to be almost entirely lost sight of, the majority of our people, apparently, having come to the conclusion that the less they have to do with them the better. It is true, however, that there are some really meritorious oil companies, but the great majority of them, if not bogus, are entirely too much inflated.

Private telegrams report Dalzell as having sold in Philadelphia to-day at 1¾; Maple Shade 4¾; and Ocean 1¾. In New York, Pithole Creek sold at 8; Bennehoff Run 18¾; and United States 17¾—market closing dull.

There was again a very good attendance on 'Change to-day, and but little doubt now seems to be entertained as to its final success. —The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is putting in new side tracks between Cairo and Parkersburg to accommodate West Virginia oil product, and erecting sheds to shelter the oil. It is now estimated that the average daily oil yield of West Virginia is 1500 barrels, one-third of which is the valuable lubricating oil found outside of the Burning Springs district.

—The Comptroller of the currency holds under advisement the proposition to introduce in the market three dollar notes of the national currency. The Washington Chronicle, says:—"It is presumed, in consequence of the opposition of banking companies to the issue of such circulation, that the Comptroller will decide against the issue of notes of that denomination.

—The New York Tribune, of Feb. 7, says:

"The trade of the city is moderate, and buyers are moving with much caution. The people at large are fully impressed with the idea that steady contraction is to be the policy of the Government, and that those with fewest engagements to pay money will be safest. Consumers, under the feeling that prices are to be lower, buy sparingly, and traders are not encouraged to make their ordinary purchases even. Goods continue to pass into bonds, and stocks of domestic fabrics to increase, with nothing in the future to check the movement. Since April, 1865, the country has largely over-traded, as is now clearly seen by the sluggishness in the business of all grades of traders."

—For some time past trade has ruled dull, and the tendency is generally and steadily to a reduction of business and lower prices. That this tendency of things is attributed to Secretary McCulloch's course in reference to the national finances, as made public through his Fort Wayne speech, there is little question. In that speech he announced his determination, to the utmost of his ability, to contract the public debt, and facilitate a resumption of specie payments, and to this expression of opinion he has steadily adhered in action. The policy is accepted by the great body of the people as prudent and wise, and, without stopping to discuss the time or precise mode of resumption, all feel that the effect of that speech was to dismiss all idea of further expansion. The first step under this assurance was a halt in production, because manufacturers and others will not risk the accumulation of stocks on hand, while consumers keep out of the market, waiting for the lower prices that are promised through an appreciation of the currency, that must, to a greater or less extent, precede a resumption of specie payments. This slacking off in business lessened the demand for money, hence the low rate of interest and general ease in the money market. There is little use for money in the more industrial pursuits. Speculation has had its wide-spread wings clipped, and is now narrowed pretty much to operations in stock circles. We are not of those who believe that the Secretary can effect, or that he desires to effect, a resumption at once. The condition of the national finances and the situation of the great business interests of the country are to be consulted, and these would be injured by any violent change; but the announcement by the Secretary of the Treasury was intended as a note of warning, which is working well. A retrenchment and resumption policy has met with opposition, and is opposed in influential quarters now. But the Secretary, and those who believe in his policy, think they see in such opposition the plain expressions of feelings growing out of engagements which a majority of those who made them felt it prudent to avoid. It was but natural that men who found themselves dependent for success on the continuance of the inflation incident to the war, should appeal to the country to prolong that unnatural state of things, and should employ expressions of confidence in its perpetuation, from a feeling that it depended solely on a general acquiescence in just such expressions. With unimpaired confidence in the Secretary, believing him resolutely bent on consummating the avowal of his Fort Wayne speech, we are gratified to observe that the Ways and Means Committee, though offering a substitute for Mr. McCulloch's late draft or a bill for these purposes, still keeps the same great objects steadily in view; and we may congratulate ourselves that the public mind is fairly aroused to their importance, and determined on their attainment in a manner consistent with general prudence.—Phila. Ledger.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
FRIDAY, Feb. 9, 1866. }

There is no particular change to note in the tone of the general markets, and dullness and stagnation still seem to be the most prominent characteristics. It is true, there is a fair volume of business, but it is almost entirely of a retail character, and round lot operations are very rare. In values there is no material change to notice, though there is no disguising the fact that the tendency is towards lower rates.

GRAIN—No improvement to report in the market for Wheat, and the supply is considerably in excess of the demand. Sale of 200 bush Oats at 44, and 300 at 47, delivered. Corn is quiet and unchanged—one car reported at 68—small sales from store at 70 to 75. Sale of 500 bush good Spring Barley at 75. Nothing doing in Rye.

GROCERIES—Market is steady, and a shade firmer, though without material change in prices. Rio Coffee is quoted at 30 to 31 for fair to prime. Cuba Sugar, 12@13; Porto Rico, 14@15; Crushed, 18@19; "A" Coffee, 17@17½; "B" ditto, 17; Porto Rico Molasses, 80 to 90. Rice, 10½ to 11 for Rangoon, and 12½@13 for North Carolina.

FLOUR—Is steady, with a moderate local demand at $8 to $8½ for Spring Wheat Family, and $10 to $10½ for Winter Wheat brands. Rye Flour is dull and nominal at $5@5½ per bbl. Buckwheat is quoted firm at $5 per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is reported steady at 15 to 15½ for Shoulders, 18 to 18½ for Ribbed Sides, and 24@24½ for Sugar Cured Hams. Sales of 8000 lbs at 15 for Shoulders, 18 for Sides and 24 for Hams. Mess Pork is selling in a small way at $29@30. Sale of 10 tcs city Lard at 18½. Country is selling at 16@17.

BUTTER—Prime Roll Butter is scarce, and in demand at 35@36, while common and inferior is very dull and in good supply.

CHEESE—Is steady but unchanged at 21@22 for Hamburg and Goshen.

POTATOES—Sales from store at $1,15@1,20 per bush, and $3,50@3,60 per bbl. Sale of 30 bbls, on track, at $3,40.

APPLES—Unchanged. Sales of fair to good at $6 to $6½ per bbl, and prime to choice at $7@7½.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples are in fair demand at 14 to 16 for fair choice. Peaches dull and drooping.

OIL—Sales of 25 bbls No. 1 Lard at $1,87.

ONIONS—In moderate local demand with sales from store at $2½@3 per bbl.

HOMINY—Is selling in small way at 3¾@4c.

CRANBERRIES—Dull but unchanged. Occasional sales at $13 to $15 per bbl.

SEEDS—Small sales of Cloverseed at $7@7½ per bushel. Flaxseed is in demand at $2¾. But little inquiry for Timothy.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE }
FRIDAY, Feb. 9, 1866. }

The Crude market is quiet and dull, though nominally unchanged at 20, bbls returned, and 25, bbls included. Sales reported in lots of 700 bbls at 20. For Refined, in bond, there is no improvement to note in the demand, though 50c is still offered and refused for Philadelphia delivery. On the cars here 44@45c seem to be the asking rates. Free Oil is dull, with occasional small sales of good standard brands at 65@64. Naptha is excessively dull and neglected, not a single sale having been reported for weeks. An effort will be made to have the duty on this article taken off by the present Congress. Residuum is still quoted at $4,75@5 per bbl, but the demand has been very light for several days past, and the inside figure, we presume, may be taken as a fair quotation, although the last sale reported was at $5.

Philadelphia Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—The flour market continues excessively dull, and has a tendency totally unsaleable—the fact is, stump tail flour is in bad odor, and can hardly be given away. The only sales reported are in a small way for the supply of the home consumers at $7@7,50 per bbl for good superfine, $7,50@8,50 for extras, $8@9 for northwestern extra family, $9@$10,50 for Penna and Ohio do do, and $11@13 for fancy lots—according to quality. Rye flour is dull at $4,75@5, and corn meal at $4.

There is a fair inquiry for good wheat, but common quality is not wanted. Sales of 1500 bush choice red on secret terms, some good quality at $2,15@2,25 per bush, and white from $2,25 to $2,60. Rye is dull at 80@85c. The receipts of corn continue small, but there is not much demand. Sales of 4000 bush yellow at 73@74c, in store and from the cars. Oats are unchanged; 4000 bush Penna sold at 45c.

No sales of Barley; 2000 bushels malt sold at $1,25.

Cloverseed is less active. Small sales at $7,50@8,12½—the latter for choice. 100 bags Timothy sold at $4,25. Flaxseed sells at $3,10@3,15 per bush.

Whisky—The demand is limited. Sales of refilled at $2,21, Penna, at $2,24@2,25, and Ohio at $2,27—the latter for bright pkgs, which are scarce.

Internal Revenue—20th Collection District.

The December business has just been made up at the United States Collector's office at Franklin. The assessments made up in November, were as follows:

Assessor's List for Nov., 1865	$ 52,313 55
